FINE OF $200 ON GREENSBURG MAN

Thomas Robbins Found Guilty on Charge of Selling Liquor by Circuit Court Jury

TRIAL LASTS ALL DAY MONDAY

Case Appealed From Justice of Peace Court Got $16 Judgment to be Heard Wednesday

Thomas Robbins of Greensburg, who was tried b y a jury in circuit court here Monday on a charge of selling liquor, was found guilty as charged late yesterday, and a fine of $200 imposed.

The defendant was charged with selling liquor to two men of Greensburg, each of whom testified in court concerning the alleged sale at 25 cents a drink, and J. W. Holcomb, prosecuting attorney of Decatur county, was the only other witness examined by either side.

The case was sent here on a change of venue together with three other cases against Robbins and two cases against Gregg Alyea, also of Greensburg.

Before the case was heard yesterday an attempt to discharge the defendant because of former jeopardy was made, and another attempt was made to discharge the defendant on grounds that the case had lapsed over three terms of court without trial. Both motions were overruled and it was intimated that an appeal to the Supreme court would be taken from the decision of the jury.

The case was heard here by Judge Freemont Miller of Franklin who was appointed special judge in the action. The verdict was reached about eight o'clock last night.

A case has been set for trial Wednesday before Judge Sparks, without the jury. It is the case of Robert O. Kennedy against William T. Curry, the action being on an account, demanding $16 judgment. The case was venued to the circuit court on an appeal from Justice Stech's court.

WILL CHERRY DIES AT HIS HOME IN NEWCASTLE

Former Rushville Man, Who Lived West of City Many Years, Expires of Heart Trouble

Will Cherry, about sixty-seven years of age, and former Rushville man, died at his home in Newcastle this morning, according to word received by relatives here today.

Mr. Cherry had been in poor health for several years, suffering with heart trouble, but had been employed most of the time.

The deceased left Rushville about ten years ago, moving to Wisconsin where he and his family lived on a farm until about two years ago, when they came back to Indiana and located in Newcastle.

Mr. Cherry was formerly a farmer here and lived just west of Rushville in the property that now belongs to Mrs. Lieu Oneal.

The deceased is survived by the widow, who was his second wife, and three sons by his second marriage, Thomas, William and Hugh.

No news of the funeral arrangements had been received here this afternoon, but it was expected that burial would take place in East Hill cemetery.

BUSINESS METHODS PROGRAM

Relations Between Buyer and Seller Discussed by Rotarians

A "business methods" program was followed at the regular meeting of the Rotary club today noon at the Social club, the specific subject being, "The Relationship Between Buyer and Seller."

The topic was discussed from both angles, both by retailers and manufacturers who are members of the club.

Business ethics and trade practices were taken up in the discussion, in which more than a dozen members of the club participated.

CHECK FORGER ESCAPES

Recognized at One Hotel and Passes Bogus Paper at Another

An alleged check artist was almost captured Monday night, but he made good his escape, taking with him $4 obtained from a check passed at the Lollis Hotel, according to Police Chief Blackburn.

The man appeared here about a year ago at the Scanlan hotel and passed a bogus check for $40, and when he reappeared Monday at the hotel, Mrs. O. P. Wamsley, in charge of the hotel, demanded payment on the check given a year ago. He escaped, and went to the Lollis hotel, according to the police, where he presented the check for $4 and left the city, before he was captured.

DATE IS EXTENDED UNTIL DECEMBER 1

Time For Red Cross Roll Call Continued Few Days So All May Have Chance to Join

STATEMENT BY THE CHAIRMAN

Workers Designated in County to Canvass and Receive Memberships are Announced

The following statement in regard to the annual Roll Call now in progress, was issued today by Robert E. Mansfield, chairman of the Rush county chapter of the American Red Cross:

In this season of thanksgiving and expression of gratitude for the blessings of the year, the people of Rush County should include in their benefactions and generous giving a one dollar membership in the Red Cross, the most active, effective and far-reaching humanitarian organization in the world.

The annual membership drive, covering the period from November 11, Armistice day until Thanksgiving is being conducted throughout the state and nation. Although no attempt is being made in Rush county to make an intensive campaign—a house to house canvass, every generous, loyal citizen of the county should consider it a duty and a privilege to enlist in this patriotic service. In order to accommodate those who have not yet responded to the call, and the workers who have been delayed in their solicitations, the date has been extended until December first.

The maintenance of the American Red Cross, and the continuation of its splendid service depend upon the annual renewal of memberships. Indifference, or failure to respond to this roll call might result in a surrender of the charter of the Rush County chapter, which has a splendid record of service during and since the war.

The American Red Cross maintains an organization that is always ready to function in time of emergency, disaster or calamity of any kind. It also retains in the treasury of the local chapter a fund with which to meet the emergency of epidemics, accidents or disaster. To maintain this fund, and to preserve an organization, is the purpose of the annual roll call for memberships. In considering your Thanksgiving benefactions remember and include the Red Cross.

The following workers in the organization in the county have been designated to canvass, or receive membership subscriptions in their respective townships and communities:

NEW OIL STOVE EXPLODES

William Stut, 28, Killed Early Today at South Bend

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 25—Explosion cast the life of William Scott, 28, here early today.

Stout returned home and was building a fire in the stove before the arrival of his wife. When the fluid reached the burner it exploded and it was thought that Stout had mixed kerosene and gasoline.

Stout ran into the street his clothing aflame. A pedestrian came to his rescue and smothered the flames, but the burns were deep into into the flesh and Stout died six hours later.

ATTEMPT TO MODIFY POSTAL SALARY BILL

Compromise Satisfactory Both to President and Sponsors of Measure is Sought

WAS VETOED BY COOLIDGE

PAUL R. MALLON

Washington, Nov. 25—plans for modification of the postal salary bill vetoed by President Coolidge at the close of the last session, were going forward today in an effort to reach a compromise, satisfactory both to the president and sponsors of the measure, before congress reconvenes.

The exact nature of the proposed compromise has not been disclosed but its known to be connected closely with the expenditure increased salaries would cost the government. It has been estimated it would cost one hundred million dollars.

Friends of the bill claim this estimate is nearly double the real figure.

WOODMEN TO NOMINATE

WEB OF EVIDENCE AROUND SUSPECT

Unnamed Culprit Sought by Every Agency of Law in Effort to Solve Sheatsley Furnace Mystery

WOMAN TO BE QUESTIONED

Took Lunch at Sheatsley Home Shortly Before Tragedy—Woman's Body May be Exhumed

(By United Press)

Columbus, Ohio, Nov 25—Authorities drew a web of evidence about an unnamed culprit in the Sheatsley furnace mystery today and directed that every agency of the law be bent toward establishing his identity.

John R. King, county prosecutor, declared an end to "further theorizing" in this case and "that our most important duty now is to find out who was criminally involved."

The prosecutor left for Lithopolis early in the day to question a woman who was said to have taken lunch with Rev. C. V. Sheatsley and his family a few hours before the pastor's wife was found smouldering in the parsonage furnace.

Before leaving King maed it plain that he does not suspect the Sheatsley luncheon guest but expects to get from her "some information vital to the investigation at this time."

There is a possibility, it was learned today, that the remains of Mrs. Sheatsley which were buried Thursday at Paris Ohio, may be exhumed to settle a question as to whether any bones of the head were recovered from the furnace.

The assistant undertaker who removed the remains from the furnace told the prosecutor today that he was practically certain the body had not been decapitated.

King, however, eager for information as to the condition of the skull, may order the remains exhumed.

SUES FOR POSSESSION

Buford R. Boone and others have filed suit in Justice Stech's court against Henry Dungan, the action being for possession of a dwelling house at 608 West Ninth street. The plaintiffs also demand $75 judgment as damages. The case will be heard Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

WARMER WEATHER IN SIGHT

Mercury Stands at 21 Degrees Above Zero During the Night

Warmer weather is in sight, according to the prediction of the weather bureau, in which generally fair weather also is indicted for this section of the state tonight and Wednesday.

The mercury went to 21 degrees during the night for the low place of the 24 hour period, although it really appeared colder than the 21 degrees. The coldest recorded so far this winter was one night in October when 20 degrees was reached. The air during the night and today felt colder because of the dampness and chilly wind that prevailed. With the temperature at 21 during the night, a heavy freeze was reported in all sections of the county.

MARION DRUGGIST ARRESTED

W. A. Dugan and Matt Botts, Former Employe, Held in Federal Court

Marion, Ind., Nov. 25—William A. Dugan, Marion druggist, and Matt Botts, a former employe in Dugan's drug store, were arrested here today by deputy United States marshal on charges of violation of the federal prohibition laws.

Dugan and Botts were taken to Indianapolis where they were to appear before the United States commissioner and arrange bonds.

The warrant for their arrest was signed by George Winkler of the federal prohibition department.

Dugan was tried in the Grant county court here last week on charges of selling liquor. The jury was discharged after it had failed to reach a verdict.

20 CONVERSIONS IN REVIVAL

O. P. Wamsley Returns From Rockport Where he Assisted in Meeting

O. P. Wamsley has returned to his home in this city from Rockport, Ind., where he has been assisting the Rev. F. T. Taylor, pastor of the Methodist church, in a series of meetings. There were twenty conversions and several accessions to the church, during the meeting.

The Rev. Taylor was a former pastor of the Glenwood M. E. church, and now has a much larger congregation. He has one of the largest Epworth Leagues in the Evansville district, having three hundred in attendance.

Mr. Wamsley goes to Seymour Saturday to assist in a series of evangelistical meetings in the First Presbyterian church there.

OVER $2,000 ARE COLLECTED

Delinquent Tax Collectors at Work in County Past Five Days

Delinquent tax collectors had collected $2,280.68 in back taxes up to the beginning of business this morning, it was announced at the treasurer's office today. They have been working in the county since last Wednesday.

The folly of permitting taxes to go delinquent is impressed upon taxpayers when they have to pay not alone all the taxes due the county, but the delinquent fee of ten per cent according to the law, as well as the collection fee.

Tansel and McLean of Indianapolis have contracted to collect the delinquencies at the rate of ten cents for each mile travelled in making the collections.

BUREAU POLICIES TO BE FORMULATED

Chief Among Them was Expected to be Vigorous Demand for Passage of Marketing Law

NEW OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

W. H. Settle of Petroleum Chosen President for Third Term—Banquet For Tonight

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 25—Efficiency in production and proper marketing and distribution were recommended as most certain cures than legislative panaceas for the plight of agriculture at the closing session of the Indiana farm bureau federation convention today.

As the first step toward remedying conditions the federation recommended passage by the next legislature of a standard cooperative marketing bill.

Less acres and more bushels per acre will help solve the problem of production, the federation program declared.

Establishment of a higher standard of living on the farm and insisting that the income from the farm pay the bills, was recommended.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 25—Policies of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation for the coming year were to be formulated today at the closing session of the annual convention of the federation.

Chief among the policies of the federation is expected to be a vigorous demand for passage of a more adequate cooperative marketing law at the next session of the state legislature.

The application of cooperative banking was discussed by H. E. Fehr, assistant to Warren Stone president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive engineers, which established the first labor bank in the United States at Cleveland.

At the banquet tonight following the close of the business session, Congressman Purnell of Attica will discuss relief for agriculture through legislation.

W. H. Settle of Petrolleum was elected for his third term as president of the federation at last night's session.

Other officers are: Scott Meiks, Shelbyville, first vice president; Mrs. Charles Sewell, Otterbein, second vice president. Indiana directors of the American Farm Bureau Federation: W: H: Settle, J. H. Gwalthney, Poseyville, and John Dyer, Vincennes.

Settle in opening the convention urged the necessity for better cooperative marketing laws in Indiana.

He declared the American Farm Bureau Federation is dominated by a "clique" that does not represent the real interests of the farmer.

The Grain Marketing Corporation, sponsored by the national organization and large elevator interests "betrays the principle of copoerative marketing," Settle said.

GOMPERS RE-ELECTED

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 25—Cheering and applauding wildly delegates to the convention of the American Federation of Labor today unanimously re-elected Samuel Gompers, seventy four year old leader, to head the American labor movement for another year. His entire executive council was also returned to office.

16 DEFENDANTS IN ON DEALS-ELLIOTT

District Attorney Begins Closing Argument in Hawkins Company Mail Fraud Trial

TRACES ITS DEVELOPMENT

Defense Attorneys Admit Existence of Scheme to Defraud, But Conspiracy Was Not Proved

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 25—District Attorney Elliott early this afternoon launched into his closing argument for conviction of the sixteen defendants in the Hawkins Mortgage Company mail fraud case.

Tracing rapidly of the development of the Hawkins Mortgage Company and its absorption of nearly one hundred loan and welfare societies throughout the country, Elliott asserted that the defendants were "hand in glove" with Morton Hawkins, president of the company, in the conspiracy.

He charged that the defendants were aware of the fact that the Hawkins Company was operating at a loss from year to year and that "dividends" were paid through the sale of additional stock.

The manipulations of Hawkins, he branded as one of the most sensational cases in the history of high finance and get-rich-quick schemes.

Elliott was to speak for two and one half hours and Judge Geiger expected to instruct the jury shortly before court adjourns this afternoon.

Thirteen defense attorneys completed their arguments for acquittal shortly before noon. In most cases they freely admitted the existence of a gigantic scheme to defraud but insisted that the government had failed to produce evidence to prove participation in a consiracy with Hawkins.

The defense completed its evidence late yesterday afternoon. No rebuttal testimony was offered and Judge Geiger ordered a night session to speed up the closing arguments.

Ralph K. Lowder, assistant district attorney opened for the government. Lowder reviewed the evidence in the case andi nsisted the government had proved beyond doubt that all the defendants were implicated in the scheme to defraud.

"The defense claims that Hawkins alone was responsible for the gigantic fraud," Lowder said. "Hawkins couldn't possibly have done everything that has been revealed in this trial without assistance."

"These men were parts of the machine that was directed by Hawkins. They knew what was going on and it took the whole machine to work as Hawkins planned for it to work.'

"Everybody around the Hawkins offices knew the firm was losing money, yet these officers claim they were ignorant of the fact. They say they thought it was a 'going' concern, but where was it going?"

Taking up the defense argument, A. R. Russell, attorney for Anthony Schieb, vice president of the Hawkins company, portrayed Schieb as an unlettered man who was just as much the victim of Hawkins' schemings as any of the stockholders who lost.

Carl Anderson, "the boy who came back form the army and fell into Hawkins' hands," was defended by Charles Jewett, former mayor of Indianapolis, in the argument.

District Attorney Elliott will close the argument for the government late this afternoon and the case will be given to the jury.

In their closing arguments the defense attorneys pictured Morton Hawkins, president of the mortgage company as the "arch conspirator" who used the other officials of the mortgage company as tools in his devious stock manipulations.

Throughout the trial the chief contention of the defense was that Hawkins, now a fugitive from justice, alone was responsible for the irregular transactions revealed in the government's evidence.

Elliott in arguing for conviction will insist that all the defendants had knowledge of the actual conditions under which the Hawkins company was operated and in some instances received a "rake off" for helping Hawkins buy up loan societies and dissipate their assets.

Frank Jacque, former attorney

PREVENTION OF WOOD FIRES SOUGHT IN BILL

No Provision on Present Statutes for Means of Fighting Woodland Fires

BILL IS BEING DRAFTED

Indianapolis, Nov. 25—Prevention of woodland and meadow fires such as those which caused thousands of dollar damage in at least nine counties in Indiana during the past two weeks is sought in the bill being drafted by the state department of conservation in conjunction with the state fire marshal's department and which will be presented to the next legislature.

There is no provision on the present statutes of Indiana for a means of fighting woodland and meadow fires and the bill is intended to provide such a means. It is also intended to provide a penalty for those responsible for starting the fires, officials drafting it said.

Road men for the state fire marshal's department were formerly responsible for seeing that these fires were extinguished but the law providing this means was repealed several years ago.

Officials of the two departments have been considering drafting a provision in the bill that would put the responsibility of combating the fires on to county officials or township trustees. In event a fire would break out these latter officials would organize voluntary fire fighting forces to serve with pay to aid in putting them out.

This provision, however, has only been tentatively decided upon.

Elwood—Mikel Ohler, 65, hod carrier, applied for admission to the county infirmary. He said he had been employed until the election with the promise of work afterward, but when he showed up for duty Nov. 5, he was told by his employers he had voted the wrong way and was fired.

Kokomo—Martha Kephart, who has been married, divorced and remarried the same husband, has sued for another divorce.

Turkey and baked chicken dinner will be served Thursday at noon at the Wesley M. E. church hall.

Colleen Moore at Princess

Colleen Moore, the "Flaming Youth Girl," the acknowledged perfect flapper on the screen, has turned her back on hoydenish flapper roles for the time being. In "Flirting With Love," the comedy drama of stage life, coming to the Princess theatre Wednesday and Thursday, she demonstrates that she is just as much at home in part calling for emotional dramatic acting as she is in roles of lighter vein.

In this First National picture versatile Colleen shares the co-featuring honors with Conway Tearle and is supported by a well-balanced cast, containing such names as Winifred Bryson, Frances Raymond, John Patrick, Alan Roscoe, William Gould and Marga La Rubia.

Directed by John Francis Dillon, who handled the megaphone on "Flaming Youth" and "The Perfect Flapper," two of Miss Moore's most recent outstanding successes, "Flirting With Love," unique as to plot and story construction, is sure to please the picture patrons who have enjoyed Miss Moore's past screen work.

Miss Moore enacts the role of a highly temperamental actress, a star in musical comedies the success of which has been based on the risque nature of their plot. Her new show is closed through the instrumentality of a stage reformer, a part played by Mr. Tearle. The actress pretends to lose her memory and wanders into the home of the reformer, who also is a student of psychology, planning to deceive him into believing that she is a subject for psychological study and then to ridicule him publicly.

All Over Indiana

Bluffton—Andy Reed's dream of fried eggs was shattered. He bought twenty-five of what he thought were pullets and some egg-laying tonic to urge them on. The "pullets" awakened him with their crowing.

Richmond—A benefit dance here raised $273.75 to purchase markers for the graves of "Bud" Hennigar and William Kenney, police officer and fireman, who died last month in the performance of their duty.

Attica—A big seven pound bass in the old shale pit of the John Meeker farm who bore scars of successful battles with many ambitious fishermen is in the frying-pan at last. He was caught when the pit was drained.

Children make constipation a habit—relieve them with Kellogg's Bran

Children punish themselves terribly by ignoring nature's demands. They bring constipation upon themselves. They invite the many other diseases which can be traced to constipation. Immediate steps should be taken to rid them and keep them free from this disease.

It takes ALL bran to be 100 per cent effective. That's what Kellogg's is—ALL bran. That is why doctors everywhere recommend Kellogg's. That is why Kellogg's Bran carries a money-back guarantee to bring permanent relief, if eaten regularly, in the most chronic cases of constipation. That is why Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, has brought glorious, glowing health to thousands—because it is ALL bran.

No matter how long one has suffered with constipation, Kellogg's Bran will bring permanent relief IF EATEN EVERY DAY—at least two tablespoonfuls—in chronic cases, with every meal.

Kellogg's Bran is delicious. It has a crisp, nut-like flavor that simply delights the taste. It is a wonderful surprise if one has been used to ordinary, unpalatable brans.

There are many ways to serve Kellogg's Bran. Eat it with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Look for the recipes on every package and try it in muffins, bread, griddle cakes, etc.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is made in Battle Creek and is sold by grocers everywhere. It is served by the leading hotels and clubs.

PORTLAND RESIDENTS HEIRS TO BIG ESTATE

Heirs Hold Meeting to Arrange to File Claims For Million Dollar Estate in New York

MRS. FULTON DIRECT HEIR

Portland, Ind., Nov. 25—A number of Portland residents are heirs to an estate of $4,000,000,000 now in litigation in New York, several of them declared here today.

A meeting of the heirs here has been held to file claims for the estate. The litigation claims property in New York city on which giant skyscrapers, Old Trinity church and its ancient graveyard now stand.

John J. Hawkins, who settled in Jay county in 1829, was a grandson of the late Joseph Hawkins, who married Annette Jane Edwards, sister of Capt. Robert Hawkins, of the British army who left the estate, it was claimed.

John Hawkins resided on the Hawkins farm about seven and one half miles southeast of the city.

Mrs. Gertrude Fulton, of this city, claims she is a direct heir and other heirs are James Maxwell, Jennie Votaw, James Simmons, and James S. Hawkins, of Lake View Mich., formerly of this city, and many members of his family here, and the Benjamin Hawkins families.

The suit has been instituted in the probate court of New York to settle the ancient claim based in a ninety-nine year lease given by Robert Edwards in 1773 and said to have been renewed in 1877.

The original lease included seventy-seven acres and a fraction leased to John and George Cruged "for one thousand pounds and a paper of corn."

EXODUS IS ON THE DECLINE

Fewer Immigrants Leaving State for Their Native Countries

Gary, Ind., Nov. 18—Increased industrial activity in Gary has reduced the number of immigrants going back from here to the "old country", J. E. Hitchens, collecter of internal revenue for this district said today.

Hitchens keeps in touch with the movements of aliens because it is necessary for them to go to his office to settle their affairs before leaving for their native lands. They must obtain clearance papers to show that they have paid their income taxes.

The number calling at his office were incearsed during the summer months but is now falling off.

Many of those returning to their homes are from southern Europe, mostly Italy and the Slavic countries. Many come here to make money and return to make their homes in their native lands, while others go back to bring their families to America.

BANNER YEAR FOR VOCATIONAL WORK

High School Departments For Vocational Education Were Maintained in 96 High Schools

ANNUAL REPORT PUBLISHED

Expenditures for Year Totaled $373,414.83 and Funds Received Were $139,210.12

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 25—The fiscal year which ended June 30, 1924 was a banner year for vocational education in Indiana, according to the annual report today of the division of vocational education in the state department of public instruction.

High school departments for vocational education were maintained in ninety-six high schools in the state as compared with sixty-three for the previous year, according to the report.

The expenditures for the year which ended the last day of September this year totaled $373,414.83 for vocational education. During the year state funds supplied $261,851.88 for vocational education while federal funds supplied $139,210.12.

In the 122 cities in Indiana where vocations are taught in public schools 625 teachers were employed for this purpose and 20,854 pupils received vocational instructions.

The salaries of the teachers totaled $617,074.17, of which $411,400 were paid out of local funds. Local funds were reimbursed $205,673.34 of this amount from the state and federal funds.

In the previous fiscal year there were approximately the same number of pupils with about 100 fewer teachers employed. Salaries of teachers totaled $460,551.05 of which $236,575.58.

"The encouraging outlook for vocational education in Indiana is but the inevitable result of normal development of public education," the report declared. "On every hand, educators and laymen are emphasizing the importance of providing courses of instruction adapted to the needs and capacities of different individuals.

"The futility of attempting to impose indentical courses of study upon each and every child has been demonstrated conclusively. Indiana, in common with every other state in the union is consistently translating into reality the universally expressed hope that the public school will contribute its full share to the training of every youth for profitable employment and intelligent citizenship."

Gary, during the fiscal year which ended, was far in the lead in vocational education in the point of the number of pupils over any other city in the state. In that city 4,041 pupils received this class of instruction from 48 teachers, Indianapolis employed 68 teachers but had only 2,357 pupils. Fort Wayne was far behind the other larger cities in the state with only 319 pupils and 11 teachers.

In Muncie 1630 pupils were giving vocational training by thirty teachers in Evansville, 1297 by 29 teachers; in South Bend 1451 by 52, and in Terre Haute 1248 by 37.

South Bend—Lessening of the dangers of the Dunes highway called "death highway" because of the many accidents on it will result in the construction of the pavement between Laporte and South Bend in 1925 by the state highway commission. The pavement will divert much of the traffic from the Dunes road.

BIBLE THOUGHT —FOR TODAY—

Bible Thoughts memorized, will prove a priceless heritage in after years.

The Golden Rule:—As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them. Luke 6:31.

PRAYER:—Lord, help us to make Thee the standard of our life, and then we ever will love aright and serve aright every one else.

Home Town Not Over-Indulged

It is becoming more apparent every day that Senator Watson does not intend to recommend Judge Will M. Sparks of Rushville to succeed Judge Albert B. Anderson as federal judge in Indiana, when Jugde Anderson is elevated to the United States circuit court of appeals.

If Senator Watson fails to give due recognition to Judge Sparks as an outstanding jurist in Indiana, his friends here will be greatly disappointed, because they realize that Senator Watson himself would benefit from the recommendation of such an able man, aside from any consideration of the demands which Rush county republicans feel that they have a right to make upon the senior senator from Indiana.

It is reported on good authority that Senator Watson feels he would be criticized if he advocated the appointment by the president of a man from his home town. But with thirty candidates pressing for the appointment, representing every congressional district in the state, recommending a home man would be the most expedient thing to do.

It would not be expedient, however, unless the home man were fitted for the position, but this objection can not be raised against Judge Sparks, as he is recognized as one of the ablest circuit judges in Indiana. Attorneys from all over Indiana have urged his appointment, not for any political reason, but because of his ability to fill the place creditably.

Criticism of Senator Watson for backing a man from Rushville for the appointment would not be on tenable ground because the senator can not be accused of over-indulging Rush county in political plums. One Rushville man, it has been recalled by republicans here, has received appointment through the senator's influence. They also do not forget that Rushville is the only fourth class city in the sixth district which does not have a federal building. Certainly, no favoritism has been shown.

Dry Law Enforcement

The continued reports that the wets in congress are encouraged and proposed to make a concentrated drive for modification of the Volstead law, make the liquor question a live issue.

Leaders of the Volstead law defenders are prepared for the battle of wits, but they need the support of public sentiment, which is liable to be turned away if the continued propaganda is spread about the lax enforcement of the dry laws.

People in reaching a conclusion are very likely to be influenced by the stories of liquor smuggling and alleged prevalence of drinking, especially among young people.

Few will give enough consideration to the other side of the question. Many will not recall that as a nation we have been dealing with this problem only four years, whereas the legalized liquor industry flourished for the preceding 143 years of the nation's life.

If we should grant that up to the present time, prohibition has been a failure, to do away with it now would not be a fair test of the principle.

A high standard for prohibition law enforcement has been set from the very first, due to the tendency of those opposed to prohibition to parade before the public eye every infraction of the law.

Laws always have been broken and doubtless will be. No law is enforced one hundred per cent. Murder is punishable by death in some states, yet murders are committed.

n site of its weaknesses, it is easy to demonstrate that prohibition has shown itself as a means of pronounced public betterment and of unquestioned economic value to the nation.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican
Thursday, Nov. 25, 1909

Every road led to the woods and fields today. From early morning well up into the day hunters could be seen with dogs and guns going to the country. As usual on holidays the I. & C. brought several sportsmen out from Indianapolis and dropped them off along the line at different places.

Corn shucking is fast drawing to a close and there are few fields in Rush county today which have not been finished.

Everything was quiet in Rushville today. Banks were closed and so was almost everything else in the city. Really it was lonesome down town.

To say that the second Charity ball held at the Kramer coliseum last night was a one great, big delightful success would be putting it mildly to say the least. The event was even more of a success than was ever anticipated by the most optimistic of the enthusiasts and was enjoyed by participators and spectators alike.

Miss Ruby McDaniel, a student at Earlham, and Messrs. Glen Kirkham and Paul McDaniel, who are attending school at Purdue University, came home Wednesday for Thanksgiving vacation.

Misses May and Effie Young spent today with friends at Metamora.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Powell entertained at dinner at their home in North Morgan street yesterday the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Winship, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Norris, Mr. and Mrs Bruce Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Amos and Mrs. Mary Power.

Lon Link helped make the early ordinances of the city of Rushville, being a member of the first council.

Mr. and Mrs. James Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. George Covell and Mr and Mrs. A. L. Warfield of Homer were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. E I Wooden and family in North Morgan street today

Misses Lucile and Hypathia Talbott of Indianapolis are the guests of friends and relatives in this city and attended the Charity ball last night.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Daubenspeck moved today from their property, corner of Ninth and Cherry streets, to Milroy, where they will reside. Mr. Daubenspeck is manager of the Ford agency in Milroy.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—The approaching departure of Jules Jusserand as ambassador from France has revived reminiscences of the old days when the strenuous T. R. and the doughty French diplomat set new high marks for athletic activity in the Washington official set.

Probably no other foreign diplomat ever was on such intimate terms with an American president as Jusserand was with Roosevelt.

They played tennis together on the White House courts. They spent hours on long cross-country hikes. Between times they talked natural history, literature and the comparative merits of boxing versus fencing.

Jusserand was always bobbing up around the White House, and always was welcome. He had the run of the place. Some said he had a White House latchkey.

• • •

ONE of the stories recalled of the Roosevelt-Jusserand exploits is of a cross-country hike they took on a sweltering July day. They had been hitting it up with characteristic Rooseveltian vigor, up hill and down dale, when they came to a stream winding down toward the Potomac at a point where there seemed to be a good swimming hole.

"Ah! The Old Swimming Hole!" Roosevelt exclaimed. "How about a dip?"

No sooner said than done. With the abandon of three schoolboys playing hookey, Roosevelt, Jusserand and Archibald Butt, who was the third member of the expedition, shed their hiking duds.

Roosevelt and Butt plunged in in good American fashion, but Jusserand waded in rather cautiously. He had got in about knee deep when T R noticed that he was still wearing his gloves—nice black ones, like an undertaker's.

"What's the idea?" Roosevelt asked. "Why the gloves?"

"Jussy" shrugged his shoulders and turned up his palms in a deprecatory French gesture.

"Who knows; there might, perhaps, some ladies come by," he said

• • •

ON another one of these hikes Henry Lodge was a participant. Lodge wasn't the ardent athlete that T. R. and Jusserand were, and the fast pace set by the president and the ambassador soon had him winded. They had reached a stretch of rough up-hill going when Lodge called a halt.

"Theodore, Theodore," he called, panting, breathless. "Slow up a bit. You must think I'm a damned kangaroo."

• • •

THE intimate palship between Roosevelt and Jusserand at this period is said to have caused a change in the British ambassador to Washington

Sir Mortimer Durand, Great Britain's envoy, never achieved any personal relationship with the president. Their contacts were always formal. He was always "Mr Ambassador" to T R. and Teddy was "Mr President" to him

Sir James Bryce, afterward Lord Bryce, was sent over to replace Sir Mortimer As a writer and historian, familiar with American affairs and institutions, Bryce fitted much better into the Roosevelt scheme of things.

They found themselves on common ground in historical and literary discussions. Also, Bryce cut in on some of the president's rough cross-country hikes. But no other diplomat ever achieved the camaraderie with Roosevelt that was held by Jusserand.

His departure marks the passing of the last of the "strenuous brotherhood" which flourished at the capital in the days of the "big stick," the "Ananias Club" and the reign of Roosevelt.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

DO YOU OVERLOAD YOUR STOMACH?

Di-Jo Aids Digestion and Assists Your Stomach in Digesting Food

An overloaded stomach is dangerous. Many people have chronic indigestion and they can't eat much—in fact can't eat enough to properly nourish the system. If you have gas on the stomach, heartburn, sour stomach, or any of the other common symptoms, you'll be glad to know that Di-Jo will aid you in securing relief.

But remember this, that however strong you may be, however confident you may be of your ability to digest heavy meals, an overloaded stomach always preceeds ACUTE INDIGESTION. Chronic indigestion is bad enough but ACUTE INDIGESTION is infinitely worse and is often fatal.

If you have eaten a heavy meal, take a few Di-Jo Tablets. They will almost instantly relieve that heavy feeling, will relieve the distress which overeating causes and give your stomach the relief it is crying for.

KEEP DI-JO IN THE HOUSE AND IF YOU DINE AWAY FROM HOME, KEEP IT WITH YOU. YOUR STOMACH IS THE MOTOR OF YOUR BODY. IF YOU CHOKE IT TOO MUCH IT MUST BE AIDED. DI-JO WILL GIVE ALMOST IMMEDIATE RELIEF. GET IT TODAY OF ANY DRUGGIST.

If you are troubled with constipation take DI-VAC. It is sold by all druggists and is recommended as the proper laxative to be used in connection with Di-Jo, if any is needed.

STRONG TEAMS TO FACE LIONS

Shelbyville Comes Wednesday Night and Newcastle on Friday Night For Contests

CATCH AS CATCH CAN, RULE

No Seats Will be Reserved, Except Section for Visitors—Doors to Open at 6:30

The record crowd of the basketball season is predicted for the two week end games here, Wednesday and Friday nights, when the Rushville team meets Shelbyville Wednesday night, and then on Friday plays Newcastle.

There will be no advance sale of tickets for these games, and all persons will have to take their chances on getting in. The usual reserved section for the visiting teams will be kept. It is expected that 1,800 fans will be packed into the gymnasium for each game.

The doors on each occasion will swing open at 6:30 o'clock, and at 7:15 a curtain raiser will be played. The Greensburg second team will meet the Rushville seconds in the preliminary game Wednesday night, and on Friday night the second team will meet the team from Westland.

The game Wednesday night will be the first opportunity of the Rushville team to test their strength against a stiff opponent. The Lions have so far made a good record, and in the last two games played, have showed marked improvement in all departments of the game.

On the other hand, Shelbyville has played stiffer opposition, having defeated Connersville, and then lost by ten points to Franklin last Friday. The Camels are for the most part a veteran team, with Fix, Dungan and Latshaw from the famous squad of last year, and the other members were substitutes on the team last year.

The officials for the game Wednesday night will be Vandiver of Franklin and Mowe of Richmond. For the game Friday night, York and Best will be the officials.

Coach Swain is drilling the Lions for the two games this week, and local supporters are of the belief that the team can stand the pace set by the visitors.

HEADS WABASH TEAM

Bloomington, Ind., Nov. 25—Larry Marks of Wabash, Ind., was elected captain of the Indiana University football team for 1925 at a banquet here last night. Marks, junior, played half back this year.

Iowa—Home of the Hurdling Aces

IOWA is the true home of the hurdlers. At least most of the world hurdle records have come to rest for extended intervals in Hawkeye-land.

Here are some of the performances:

Charles Brookins (left) has held four world low hurdle records and an American noteworthy performance. Among these is the 220-yard event, which he has three times run in :23 flat, cutting a second and a half from the record.

"Chan" Coulter (right) this year clipped 8-10 of a second from the old world and Olympic 400-meter three foot hurdle mark, making it at :53 1-5.

Blanche Bailey (center), Iowa co-ed, broke both the high and low national marks in a meet this year

GAME PLENTIFUL IN THIS STATE

Hunting Season in Indiana is on in Full Blast and Will Last Until February 10

SCARCITY OF RABBITS

Quaill is Very Plentiful and Duck is Beginning to Show in Northern Part of State

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 25—With the hunting season now in full blast until February 10, George N. Mannfeld, director of the fish and game division of the state department of conservation, announced today that there was a plentiful supply of game in Indiana.

There is a scarcity of rabbits, however, he said. At least there are fewer now than there has been during the past two years. He attributed the shortage to the damp weather in the spring and summer, or during the breeding season.

The rabbit builds its nest on the damp ground round underneath brush or logs or grass and it is easy for the nest to get filled with water and drown the young.

Quail is very plentiful in the state. It is possibly more plentiful than it has been in recent years, Mannfeld said, especially in the hills in southern Indiana. An illustration of this fact is a report of a hunter that he found forty nests in one small field in Daviess county. It is quite abundant in the hills of Brown county.

Duck is beginning to show up in the northern part of the state, especially on the lakes and in the lake region, Mannfeld said. Hunters report, however, that they are very shy on some occasions, even refusing to be attracted by decoys.

Coots are becoming scarcer, it is reported. Not as many have been seen in the lake region of the state this season as formerly.

Many wild geese have been seen in flocks flying high toward the south. They are hard to shoot and very few hunters have reported bagging any so far this season.

Fur bearing animals are plentiful. Hunters have been successful in shooting and trapping skunks, foxes, and raccoons. Farmers have reported that foxes have been rather bothersome in stealing their chickens. Mink is more scarce than usual, however. The scarcity of this fur-bearer is attributed to the great amount of drainage of land.

PULLMAN CO. TO ADD MEN

Michigan City, Ind., Nov. 25—Indication of the wave of prosperity that is sweeping the country is seen in the announcement that the Michigan City plant of the Pullman company will add more than 1,000 men to their payroll within the next 60 days. Several large orders for cars have been received.

Bluffton—John Edris reports a new stunt on the part of wives. He thought his car had been stolen and told police. His wife was down town, saw the car parked, and drove it home.

FANNING WITH FARRELL

Eastern Teams Below Standard

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Nov. 25—Some complaint has been voiced in the east that the class of 1924 football was inferior to the brand played in 1923 and that while there were a large number of fine teams last year there were only a few good teams turned out this year.

From an eastern viewpoint this may be correct. It is a fact that there were a number of great teams running the eastern gridiron in 1923 and that there wasn't one outstanding team developed this year that could be held out as a worthy representative in real intersectional competition.

Princeton developed late in the season and it was a powerful team if you are willing to admit that a great team has to be great in only the two last games of the season and can lose or make a poor showing in all the early games. At Yale, Harvard and Princeton they train their teams on the theory that games before the "Big Three" games are only games to get their teams ready for those "Big Three" games.

That idea does not prevail elsewhere. In the western conference, the Pacific Coast conference, the southern conference, the Missouri Valley, Rocky Mountain, Southwest, Midwest and Northwest conferences, the championship team is the team that finishes with the best percentage in games won and lost with conference rivals.

There is no conference of any kind in the east, however, and that may be one of the reasons why football in other sections of the country is advancing so much more than it is in the east. This results in general confusion at the end of each season with the filing of a half dozen claims for the sectional championship and with no way possible to judge the claims to the satisfaction of anyone.

If the middlewest were to ask the east to pick its best team to meet the best team in the middlewest the snow would be two feet on the gridiron before the east could pick its best team.

They don't know in the east what team is the best team. Perhaps Princeton would have been picked after the Harvard game, but Dartmouth Pennsylvania, Rutgers and Yale would have howled their heads off.

Speaking of Puppies—

Well, here's a new football distinction. Freshman Gary of Minnesota claims to have the biggest pair of dogs, which is campus Latin for feet, in the entire football world. Gary wears a size 14. E width. When Gary picks his immense bow-wows up and lays them down the resultant clatter is strongly reminiscent of fire horses responding to a three-alarm blaze.

FAIRVIEW HANGS SIXTH TO STRING OF VICTORIES

Athletic Club Defeats Centerville, 58 to 27, Having Registered Win in Every Game

LOOKING FOR A STRONG TEAM

The Fairview Athletic club won their sixth straight game Saturday night when they defeated the Centerville team, 58 to 27. So far this season the Fairview team has not met a team their equal, and they are anxious to get up against a strong team.

The line-up and summary:

Fairview 58		Centerville 27
Scales	F	Davis
Reynolds	F	R. Thompson
Peters	C	Fewell

ALONG THE SIDELINES

Urbana, Ill—Robert "Fighin' Bob" Zuppke has been retained as football coach at the University of Illinois for a longer period at an increased salary, George Huff, athletic director, announced.

Chicago—Fred Henderson of Butte, Mont., will captain the Big Ten champions,—the University of Chicago eleven—through the next season. Henderson weighs more than 200 pounds and plays tackle.

South Bend—With Knute Rockne absent for a day, Notre Dame's great football men went through a light signal drill in preparation for the Carnegia Tech game Saturday. Harder work is scheduled for today.

Bloomington — Larry Marks of Wabash, Ind., was elected to pilot the University of Indiana football team next year. Eleven varsity men were awarded their letters.

DRESSING ON LIMITED INCOME—HERE'S HOW IT'S DONE, GIRLS

By HEDDA HOYT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, N. Y., Nov. 25—It's the girl who is working on two cylinders and who manages to look as though she were working on all six—who is the heroine of the fashion world. The girl who has sufficient money to support a six cylinder wardrobe lets many a little Ford outfit outspeed her on Fifth Avenue.

This Fall there are so many inexpensive clothes of good material and of good lines that anyone with taste can be well dressed. Take, for instance, those snappy little short furcoats which can be made of anything from goat fur to sable. Some of these are selling so cheaply as to come within the means of any working girl. Cat fur and goat fur, dyed in deep rich browns, may not resemble the more expensive furs but they do have smartness and chic. Who knows at the first glance whether they are real mink or dyed cat? And who cares? It's the fit of the little frock beneath the coat and the shape of the perky little felt hat above it that creates an ensemble worth looking at.

A girl can spend several hundreds of dollars on a fur pacquette and from fifty to hundred dollars on her hat and some clever little person with quick wit seizes the opportunity of copying her costume and appears a week later in a cheap duplicate which she wears with an air that absolutely outclasses the owner of the original model. Sure enough, women know the difference between cat fur and sable and between a $50 bonnet and a $2.00 one, but who dresses for women nowadays? For that matter, many of the wealthy women are wearing imitation furs and jewels this year, so why worry about quality?

The well dressed woman doesn't attempt to set styles of her own if she has a limited dress allowance. She knows that she can't hope to compete with the lines set by Fashion designers. She sees something smart in a shop window or on a well dressed woman and, choosing her own coloring, follows in cheaper materials the standard set by her wealthier sister.

Many women like to feel that they are original in dress. They will purchase a fashion book and create a gown with Lanvin sleeves, Poiret waistline and Madeline skirt and add trimmings approved by some other designer. The finished dress looks like a Christmas tree. It has neither style for chic and is runined by the combination of different patterns. The designer has a reason for everything he or she does. If her frock has long sleeves it should never be made without sleeves. If it is long as to hem, it is because such a frock requires a long hemline.

The home dressmaker should realize these facts.

Accessories are very important these days, and it is these cheap little accessories which make or mar one's ensemble. Just now well-dressed women are wearing more subdued shades of hosiery. One can tell at a glance whether one is up to the moment in hosiery shades. Pinks and flash shades are no longer worn for street wear. Wood shades, light tans and browns and grays are good. Gunmetal accompanies the black shoe and occasionally one sees the oyster white stocking worn with a black and white shoe combination. White hosiery should be worn when the costume is a black and white affair.

Gloves likewise play a very important part this year. Tans and mauve shades are those generally chosen. White gloves are not being worn during the day time and only occasionally at night in which case they may either be glaze rid or suede. Most women are gloveless for evening occasions. A woman in a Spanish shawl with long white gloves looks ridiculous these days. Arms are always bare, it would seem.

Handkerchiefs are chosen with respect to the coloring of the frock. The all-white handkerchiefs of lace or lace trimmed may be carried for evening use, but for day wear the pastel squares of linen, chiffon or silk are the mode. Little sets of six handkerchiefs may be purchased in the shops, with each handkerchief of a different color. The factidious woman choses a handkerchief which harmonizes with her frock for each and every occasion.

While these little detail of dress do not seem important in themselves, the woman who dresses on a limited allowance must pay heed to them if she wishes to appear smart.

In speaking of fads and accessories, one can't omit the little barpin or brooch that is worn on the left shoulder nowadays. These may be real or imitation.

PROGRESS SEEN IN T. B. EFFORTS

Prediction is Made That Next Six Years Will See Indiana's Death Rate Greatly Reduced

WORK ORGANIZED 20 YEARS

Progress Today is far Better Than it Was Expected for the Score of Years Passed

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 25—Six more years of Anti-tuberculosis work in Indiana and the nation will result in a decrease from the disease that was not dreamed of when organized work against this was begun in America a score of years ago.

According to a bulletin issued here today by the Indiana Tuberculosis Association emphasizing a recent study by Dr. Louis I. Dublin, PH. D. statistician of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, of New York. Dr. Dublin summarized results of long study of the tuberculosis problem by saying that "a tuberculosis death rate of 50 per one-hundred thousand of the population will, I believe, be found to be not far from the actual figure in 1930." This decrease is from a total death rate of 195.2 per one-hundred thousand population prevailing in America in 1900. Dr. Dublin's report showed that in New Zealand and Australia a death rate from tuberculosis of 50 has already been obtained, and that three states of the United States in 1921 had rates below 50; in fact, two were below 40. Dr. Dublin's estimate is based primarily on the gradual reduction in the death rate from the disease and which has been brought about in a larger part in Indiana and other states since organized tuberculosis work through such agencies as the National Tuberculosis Association, the Indiana Tuberculosis Association, and the County Association identified with the latter have been applying themselves to the problem of reducing the death rate.

"It (the death rate) may even be lower providing an effort is made during the next years to apply the lessons of our experience with this disease during the last twenty or thirty year," Dr. Dublin says. "It may be much lower also if some effective biological or other new method is discovered for the treatment or prevention of tuberculosis. The movement must not rest on its laurels nor be allowed to drift along easy ways. The disease is on the decline. This is an opportune time to apply even greater energy along approved lines, that there may be no diminishing but rather cumulative returns in life saving."

Senator C. O. Holmes, of Gary, President of the Indiana Tuberculosis Association said that ninety-two Indiana counties have enthusiastic anti-tuberculosis groups preparing now for the annual sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals and health bonds, which will begin throughout the state about December 1st., and continue throughout the Christmas holidays. From the proceeds of the Christmas seal sale practically all anti-tuberculosis work, in counties, states and nation is financed.

TO BE ARSON INVESTIGATOR

G. L. Pugh, Deputy State Fire Marshall, Will go to Chicago

Indianapolis, Nov. 25— G. L. Pugh, first deputy state fire marshal and head of the state arson squad, will go to Chicago soon as an arson investigator for the National Board of Fire Underwriters, it was announced today.

Pugh was assigned with the state arson division in April 1921, when Newman T. Miller, state fire marshal took office.

Miller said he had made no appointments to fill Pugh's place, but declared that it would be filled from the arson staff, and that no appointments would be made to fill any vacancy caused by promotion.

George Cramer, second deputy in charge of inspection and fire prevention will be made first deputy but will remain head of the inspection department, Miller said.

Pugh was responsible for uncovering at different times two Terre Haute black hand arson gangs. In one gang a woman was apprehended and convicted of murder. The other gang was involved in the famous Triffeletta case in which the doings of the black hand were uncovered in detail.

Milestones of Service

THIS rioting, pushing, fast-stepping age of ours, with all its complexity, concentration and achievements, never could have attained its present development had it not been for petroleum and the long list of useful products which stem from this one widely distributed raw material.

Today, when almost everything we do, from the felling of trees to the keeping of accounts, is accomplished with mechanical assistance, the refining of crude oil and the compounding of the numberless products derived from this base is one, if not the most essential of all industries.

From crude petroleum come the most readily procured, best and cheapest lubricating oils and greases, and from the same source we get gasoline, the most economical, most mobile and most compact source of power yet discovered.

In the upbuilding of this great industry the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been a pioneer; an advanced worker on the forefront of progress.

Today, skillful, highly trained men working with every facility which science, or their own ingenuity can suggest, are striving to perfect still further, the scores of useful products going to the public under the brands of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

Throughout the ten middle western states in which this company maintains distributing facilities, is an ever-growing organization working, building to insure every person in the territory getting standardized, superior quality petroleum products he needs, when and where he wants them.

And always the company is looking forward, building and training for the years to come.

Office boys of thirty years ago are Directors of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) today—office boys of today are being schooled, trained and developed for places on the Board thirty years from now.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of the record it has made in keeping ahead of the times, and believes that each progressive step has been marked by a milestone of service to the thirty million people of the Middle West.

TIME TO PLAN THANKSGIVING DINNER

Every housewife looks forward to the preparation of this meal with enthusiasm—and sometimes with dread if there doesn't happen to be a dependable grocery in her community.

The planning will be made easier by a visit to our store. We are prepared to supply all requirements, both in staple foods and dainties.

If you haven't done so before, come in. A careful comparison with others' qualities and prices is invited.

We have just received our first Mammoth Cheese for this season. Only a few stores are able to sell cheese in such a large quantity. No other store in Rushville has ever attempted to handle them. Our cheese is made to order in June (when the best cheese is made). The one now on sale is exceptionally mild, rich and creamy, Genuine New York and simply melts in your mouth.

ECZEMA

You will be compelled to admit that the results of S.S.S. are really amazing!

MANY people imagine that eczema or tetter needs only some external application on the skin in order to get relief. This is because the attention of the sufferer is so violently directed to the intense burning and itching which accompanies this disease. Try as they may—permanent relief will never be theirs until the disease laden blood is thoroughly cleansed.

We know there is one thing that stops eczema and that is more red-blood-cells! S.S.S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it. Skin eruptions, eczema, with all its fiery, skin digging torture, and its soul-tearing, unreachable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting giants of Nature! S.S.S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1826.

S.S.S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body strengtheners known to us mortals! When you put these facts together,—then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. S.S.S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S.S.S. does build red-blood-cells, it routs eczema, clears the skin, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, and gives you that more up and going appearance.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Know what's underneath the paint before you buy

YOU wouldn't think of buying a house without first knowing how it is built and the quality of materials used. In selecting a piece of furniture you are sure to find out whether it is solid wood or veneer.

Yet many people who exercise care in most purchases buy automobiles without even lifting the hood or knowing about the hidden qualities of body and chassis construction that really determine one's satisfaction with a closed car.

* * *

We want you to know about the unseen qualities of the new Studebaker Standard Six Sedan.

Down underneath its superb body finish is a sturdy framework of carefully selected ash, glued together and fastened in place by screws —not nailed. Ash is scarce and expensive, but Studebaker uses it because it best combines proper weight and strength.

Upholstery is genuine mohair of high quality. Various grades of mohair look much alike— the big difference is in the quality.

Beneath this mohair covering are many nests of cushion springs, padded with heavy burlap, upholstery cotton and curled hair. Almost any car seems comfortable on the showroom floor, but it's quality such as this that makes the Studebaker Standard Six remain comfortable after years of service.

The same standards of excellence are maintained throughout the body and chassis. In the engine, for example, the crankshaft is completely machined on all surfaces, a practice that results in the smooth, quiet, vibrationless performance that characterizes all Studebaker cars.

* * *

Judged solely on what your eye can see—in beauty of line and finish and exterior refinements—the Studebaker Standard Six Sedan will command your instant approval.

But go deeper than that. Compare its hidden, vital qualities—its design, materials and workmanship—with cars selling for hundreds of dollars more.

Studebaker never compromises—never uses a substitute for genuine quality. Studebaker has been building quality vehicles for 72 years.

Come in and let us tell you the "inside story" of the Studebaker Standard Six Sedan.

Healthy Women Happy Homes

Good dispositions succumb. Irritability and snappy retort take the place of happiness and amiability. Sunshine is driven out of homes, in fact, they are often wrecked and friends are estranged because women suffer with ailments peculiar to their sex. The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will overcome such ailments and restore health and happiness. Do not resort to strong stimulants or narcotics when this great strengthening, healing remedy made from roots and herbs is always within reach.

FINE OF $200 ON GREENSBURG MAN

Thomas Robbins Found Guilty on Charge of Selling Liquor by Circuit Court Jury

TRIAL LASTS ALL DAY MONDAY

Case Appealed From Justice of Peace Court Got $16 Judgment to be Heard Wednesday

Thomas Robbins of Greensburg, who was tried b y a jury in circuit court here Monday on a charge of selling liquor, was found guilty as charged late yesterday, and a fine of $200 imposed.

The defendant was charged with selling liquor to two men of Greensburg, each of whom testified in court concerning the alleged sale at 25 cents a drink, and J. W. Holcomb, prosecuting attorney of Decatur county, was the only other witness examined by either side.

The case was sent here on a change of venue together with three other cases against Robbins and two cases against Gregg Alyea, also of Greensburg.

Before the case was heard yesterday an attempt to discharge the defendant because of former jeopardy was made, and another attempt was made to discharge the defendant on grounds that the case had lapsed over three terms of court without trial. Both motions were overruled and it was intimated that an appeal to the Supreme court would be taken from the decision of the jury.

The case was heard here by Judge Freemont Miller of Franklin who was appointed special judge in the action. The verdict was reached about eight o'clock last night.

A case has been set for trial Wednesday before Judge Sparks, without the jury. It is the case of Robert O. Kennedy against William T. Curry, the action being on an account, demanding $16 judgment. The case was venued to the circuit court on an appeal from Justice Stech's court.

WILL CHERRY DIES AT HIS HOME IN NEWCASTLE

Former Rushville Man, Who Lived West of City Many Years, Expires of Heart Trouble

Will Cherry, about sixty-seven years of age, and former Rushville man, died at his home in Newcastle this morning, according to word received by relatives here today.

Mr. Cherry had been in poor health for several years, suffering with heart trouble, but had been employed most of the time.

The deceased left Rushville about ten years ago, moving to Wisconsin where he and his family lived on a farm until about two years ago, when they came back to Indiana and located in Newcastle.

Mr. Cherry was formerly a farmer here and lived just west of Rushville in the property that now belongs to Mrs. Lieu Oneal.

The deceased is survived by the widow, who was his second wife, and three sons by his second marriage, Thomas, William and Hugh.

No news of the funeral arrangements had been received here this afternoon, but it was expected that burial would take place in East Hill cemetery.

BUSINESS METHODS PROGRAM

Relations Between Buyer and Seller Discussed by Rotarians

A "business methods" program was followed at the regular meeting of the Rotary club today noon at the Social club, the specific subject being, "The Relationship Between Buyer and Seller."

The topic was discussed from both angles, both by retailers and manufacturers who are members of the club.

Business ethics and trade practices were taken up in the discussion, in which more than a dozen members of the club participated.

CHECK FORGER ESCAPES

Recognized at One Hotel and Passes Bogus Paper at Another

An alleged check artist was almost captured Monday night, but he made good his escape, taking with him $4 obtained from a check passed at the Lollis Hotel, according to Police Chief Blackburn.

The man appeared here about a year ago at the Scanlan hotel and passed a bogus check for $40, and when he reappeared Monday at the hotel, Mrs. O. P. Wamsley, in charge of the hotel, demanded payment on the check given a year ago. He escaped, and went to the Lollis hotel, according to the police, where he presented the check for $4 and left the city, before he was captured.

DATE IS EXTENDED UNTIL DECEMBER 1

Time For Red Cross Roll Call Continued Few Days So All May Have Chance to Join

STATEMENT BY THE CHAIRMAN

Workers Designated in County to Canvass and Receive Memberships are Announced

The following statement in regard to the annual Roll Call now in progress, was issued today by Robert E. Mansfield, chairman of the Rush county chapter of the American Red Cross:

In this season of thanksgiving and expression of gratitude for the blessings of the year, the people of Rush County should include in their benefactions and generous giving a one dollar membership in the Red Cross, the most active, effective and far-reaching humanitarian organization in the world.

The annual membership drive, covering the period from November 11, Armistice day until Thanksgiving is being conducted throughout the state and nation. Although no attempt is being made in Rush county to make an intensive campaign—a house to house canvass, every generous, loyal citizen of the county should consider it a duty and a privilege to enlist in this patriotic service. In order to accommodate those who have not yet responded to the call, and the workers who have been delayed in their solicitations, the date has been extended until December first.

The maintenance of the American Red Cross, and the continuation of its splendid service depend upon the annual renewal of memberships. Indifference, or failure to respond to this roll call might result in a surrender of the charter of the Rush County chapter, which has a splendid record of service during and since the war.

The American Red Cross maintains an organization that is always ready to function in time of emergency, disaster or calamity of any kind. It also retains in the treasury of the local chapter a fund with which to meet the emergency of epidemics, accidents or disaster. To maintain this fund, and to preserve an organization, is the purpose of the annual roll call for memberships. In considering your Thanksgiving benefactions remember and include the Red Cross.

The following workers in the organization in the county have been designated to canvass, or receive membership subscriptions in their respective townships and communities:

NEW OIL STOVE EXPLODES

William Stut, 28, Killed Early Today at South Bend

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 25—Explosion cast the life of William Scott, 28, here early today.

Stout returned home and was building a fire in the stove before the arrival of his wife. When the fluid reached the burner it exploded and it was thought that Stout had mixed kerosene and gasoline.

Stout ran into the street his clothing aflame. A pedestrian came to his rescue and smothered the flames, but the burns were deep into into the flesh and Stout died six hours later.

ATTEMPT TO MODIFY POSTAL SALARY BILL

Compromise Satisfactory Both to President and Sponsors of Measure is Sought

WAS VETOED BY COOLIDGE

PAUL R. MALLON

Washington, Nov. 25—plans for modification of the postal salary bill vetoed by President Coolidge at the close of the last session, were going forward today in an effort to reach a compromise, satisfactory both to the president and sponsors of the measure, before congress reconvenes.

The exact nature of the proposed compromise has not been disclosed but its known to be connected closely with the expenditure increased salaries would cost the government. It has been estimated it would cost one hundred million dollars.

Friends of the bill claim this estimate is nearly double the real figure.

WOODMEN TO NOMINATE

The Modern Woodman lodge will hold an important meeting Thursday night, at which time nominations for the officers will be made, and the candidates will then be voted upon at the next meeting. The officers to be nominated will be advisor, banker, clerk, physicians, watchman, sentry, council and one trustee for a period of a year.

WOMAN TO BE QUESTIONED

Took Lunch at Sheatsley Home Shortly Before Tragedy—Woman's Body May be Exhumed

(By United Press)

Columbus, Ohio, Nov 25—Authorities drew a web of evidence about an unnamed culprit in the Sheatsley furnace mystery today and directed that every agency of the law be bent toward establishing his identity.

John R. King, county prosecutor, declared an end to "further theorizing" in this case and "that our most important duty now is to find out who was criminally involved."

The prosecutor left for Lithopolis early in the day to question a woman who was said to have taken lunch with Rev. C. V. Sheatsley and his family a few hours before the pastor's wife was found smouldering in the parsonage furnace.

Before leaving King maed it plain that he does not suspect the Sheatsley luncheon guest but expects to get from her "some information vital to the investigation at this time."

There is a possibility, it was learned today, that the remains of Mrs. Sheatsley which were buried Thursday at Paris Ohio, may be exhumed to settle a question as to whether any bones of the head were recovered from the furnace.

The assistant undertaker who removed the remains from the furnace told the prosecutor today that he was practically certain the body had not been decapitated.

King, however, eager for information as to the condition of the skull, may order the remains exhumed.

SUES FOR POSSESSION

Buford R. Boone and others have filed suit in Justice Stech's court against Henry Dungan, the action being for possession of a dwelling house at 608 West Ninth street. The plaintiffs also demand $75 judgment as damages. The case will be heard Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

TRIAL SET FOR JAN. 5

Hartford City, Ind., Nov. 25—William Duff, high school boy, will go on trial Jan. 5, here for manslaughter in connection with the death of Raymond Morris last September from injuries received in a boxing match.

WARMER WEATHER IN SIGHT

Mercury Stands at 21 Degrees Above Zero During the Night

Warmer weather is in sight, according to the prediction of the weather bureau, in which generally fair weather also is indicted for this section of the state tonight and Wednesday.

The mercury went to 21 degrees during the night for the low place of the 24 hour period, although it really appeared colder than the 21 degrees. The coldest recorded so far this winter was one night in October when 20 degrees was reached. The air during the night and today felt colder because of the dampness and chilly wind that prevailed. With the temperature at 21 during the night, a heavy freeze was reported in all sections of the county.

MARION DRUGGIST ARRESTED

W. A. Dugan and Matt Botts, Former Employe, Held in Federal Court

Marion, Ind., Nov. 25—William A. Dugan, Marion druggist, and Matt Botts, a former employe in Dugan's drug store, were arrested here today by deputy United States marshal on charges of violation of the federal prohibition laws.

Dugan and Botts were taken to Indianapolis where they were to appear before the United States commissioner and arrange bonds.

The warrant for their arrest was signed by George Winkler of the federal prohibition department.

Dugan was tried in the Grant county court here last week on charges of selling liquor. The jury was discharged after it had failed to reach a verdict.

20 CONVERSIONS IN REVIVAL

O. P. Wamsley Returns From Rockport Where he Assisted in Meeting

O. P. Wamsley has returned to his home in this city from Rockport, Ind., where he has been assisting the Rev. F. T. Taylor, pastor of the Methodist church, in a series of meetings. There were twenty conversions and several accessions to the church, during the meeting.

The Rev. Taylor was a former pastor of the Glenwood M. E. church, and now has a much larger congregation. He has one of the largest Epworth Leagues in the Evansville district, having three hundred in attendance.

Mr. Wamsley goes to Seymour Saturday to assist in a series of evangelistical meetings, in the First Presbyterian church there.

OVER $2,000 ARE COLLECTED

Delinquent Tax Collectors at Work in County Past Five Days

Delinquent tax collectors had collected $2,280.68 in back taxes up to the beginning of business this morning, it was announced at the treasurer's office today. They have been working in the county since last Wednesday.

The folly of permitting taxes to go delinquent is impressed upon taxpayers when they have to pay not alone all the taxes due the county, but the delinquent fee of ten per cent according to the law, as well as the collection fee.

Tansel and McLean of Indianapolis have contracted to collect the delinquencies at the rate of ten cents for each mile travelled in making the collections.

BUREAU POLICIES TO BE FORMULATED

Chief Among Them was Expected to be Vigorous Demand for Passage of Marketing Law

NEW OFFICERS ARE ELECTED

W. H. Settle of Petroleum Chosen President for Third Term—Banquet For Tonight

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 25—Efficiency in production and proper marketing and distribution were recommended as most certain cures than legislative panaceas for the plight of agriculture at the closing session of the Indiana farm bureau federation convention today.

As the first step toward remedying conditions the federation recommended passage by the next legislature of a standard cooperative marketing bill.

Less acres and more bushels per acre will help solve the problem of production, the federation program declared.

Establishment of a higher standard of living on the farm and insisting that the income from the farm pay the bills, was recommended.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 25—Policies of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation for the coming year were to be formulated today at the closing session of the annual convention of the federation.

Chief among the policies of the federation is expected to be a vigorous demand for passage of a more adequate cooperative marketing law at the next session of the state legislature.

The application of cooperative banking was discussed by H. E. Fehr, assistant to Warren Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive engineers, which established the first labor bank in the United States at Cleveland.

At the banquet tonight following the close of the business session, Congressman Purnell of Attica will discuss relief for agriculture through legislation.

W. H. Settle of Petrolleum was elected for his third term as president of the federation at last night's session.

Other officers are: Scott Meiks, Shelbyville, first vice president; Mrs. Charles Sewell, Otterbein, second vice president. Indiana directors of the American Farm Bureau Federation: W: H: Settle, J. H. Gwalthney, Poseyville, and John Dyer, Vincennes.

Settle in opening the convention urged the necessity for better cooperative marketing laws in Indiana.

He declared the American Farm Bureau Federation is dominated by a "clique" that does not represent the real interests of the farmer.

The Grain Marketing Corporation, sponsored by the national organization and large elevator interests "betrays the principle of copoerative marketing," Settle said.

GOMPERS RE-ELECTED

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 25—Cheering and applauding wildly delegates to the convention of the American Federation of Labor today unanimously re-elected Samuel Gompers, seventy four year old leader, to head the American labor movement for another year. His entire executive council was also returned to office.

16 DEFENDANTS IN ON DEALS-ELLIOTT

District Attorney Begins Closing Argument in Hawkins Company Mail Fraud Trial

TRACES ITS DEVELOPMENT

Defense Attorneys Admit Existence of Scheme to Defraud, But Conspiracy Was Not Proved

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 25—District Attorney Elliott early this afternoon launched into his closing argument for conviction of the sixteen defendants in the Hawkins Mortgage Company mail fraud case.

Tracing rapidly of the development of the Hawkins Mortgage Company and its absorption of nearly one hundred loan and welfare societies throughout the country, Elliott asserted that the defendants were "hand in glove" with Morton Hawkins, president of the company, in the conspiracy.

He charged that the defendants were aware of the fact that the Hawkins Company was operating at a loss from year to year and that "dividends" were paid through the sale of additional stock.

The manipulations of Hawkins, he branded as one of the most sensational cases in the history of high finance and get-rich-quick schemes.

Elliott was to speak for two and one half hours and Judge Geiger expected to instruct the jury shortly before court adjourns this afternoon.

Thirteen defense attorneys completed their arguments for acquittal shortly before noon. In most cases they freely admitted the existence of a gigantic scheme to defraud but insisted that the government had failed to produce evidence to prove participation in a consiracy with Hawkins.

The defense completed its evidence late yesterday afternoon. No rebuttal testimony was offered and Judge Geiger ordered a night session to speed up the closing arguments.

Ralph K. Lowder, assistant district attorney opened for the government. Lowder reviewed the evidence in the case and insisted the government had proved beyond doubt that all the defendants were implicated in the scheme to defraud.

"The defense claims that Hawkins alone was responsible for the gigantic fraud," Lowder said. "Hawkins couldn't possibly have done everything that has been revealed in this trial without assistance."

"These men were parts of the machine that was directed by Hawkins. They knew what was going on and it took the whole machine to work as Hawkins planned for it to work."

"Everybody around the Hawkins offices knew the firm was losing money, yet these officers claim they were ignorant of the fact. They say they thought it was a 'going' concern, but where was it going?"

Taking up the defense argument, A. R. Russell, attorney for Anthony Schieb, vice president of the Hawkins company, portrayed Schieb as an unlettered man who was just as much the victim of Hawkins' schemings as any of the stockholders who lost.

Carl Anderson, "the boy who came back form the army and fell into Hawkins' hands," was defended by Charles Jewett, former mayor of Indianapolis, in the argument.

District Attorney Elliott will close the argument for the government late this afternoon and the case will be given to the jury.

In their closing arguments the defense attorneys pictured Morton Hawkins, president of the mortgage company as the "arch conspirator" who used the other officials of the mortgage company as tools in his devious stock manipulations.

Throughout the trial the chief contention of the defense was that Hawkins, now a fugitive from justice, alone was responsible for the irregular transactions revealed in the government's evidence.

Elliott in arguing for conviction will insist that all the defendants had knowledge of the actual conditions under which the Hawkins company was operated and in some instances received a "rake off" for helping Hawkins buy up loan societies and dissipate their assets.

PREVENTION OF WOOD FIRES SOUGHT IN BILL

No Provision on Present Statutes for Means of Fighting Woodland Fires

BILL IS BEING DRAFTED

Indianapolis, Nov. 25—Prevention of woodland and meadow fires such as those which caused thousands of dollar damage in at least nine counties in Indiana during the past two weeks is sought in the bill being drafted by the state department of conservation in conjunction with the state fire marshal's department and which will be presented to the next legislature.

There is no provision on the present statutes of Indiana for a means of fighting woodland and meadow fires and the bill is intended to provide such a means. It is also intended to provide a penalty for those responsible for starting the fires, officials drafting it said.

Road men for the state fire marshal's department were formerly responsible for seeing that these fires were extinguished but the law providing this means was repealed several years ago.

Officials of the two departments have been considering drafting a provision in the bill that would put the responsibility of combating the fires on to county officials or township trustees. In event a fire would break out these latter officials would organize voluntary fire fighting forces to serve with pay to aid in putting them out.

This provision, however, has only been tentatively decided upon.

Elwood—Mikel Ohler, 65, hod carrier, applied for admission to the county infirmary. He said he had been employed until the election with the promise of work afterward, but when he showed up for duty Nov. 5, he was told by his employers he had voted the wrong way and was fired.

Kokomo—Martha Kephart, who has been married, divorced and remarried the same husband, has sued for another divorce.

Turkey and baked chicken dinner will be served Thursday at noon at the Wesley M. E. church hall.

Colleen Moore at Princess

Colleen Moore, the "Flaming Youth Girl," the acknowledged perfect flapper on the screen, has turned her back on hoydenish flapper roles for the time being. In "Flirting With Love," the comedy drama of stage life, coming to the Princess theatre Wednesday and Thursday, she demonstrates that she is just as much at home in part calling for emotional dramatic acting as she is in roles of lighter vein.

In this First National picture versatile Colleen shares the co-featuring honors with Conway Tearle and is supported by a well-balanced cast, containing such names as Winifred Bryson, Frances Raymond, John Patrick, Alan Roscoe, William Gould and Marga La Rubia.

Directed by John Francis Dillon, who handled the megaphone on "Flaming Youth" and "The Perfect Flapper," two of Miss Moore's most recent outstanding successes, "Flirting With Love," unique as to plot and story construction, is sure to please the picture patrons who have enjoyed Miss Moore's past screen work.

Miss Moore enacts the role of a highly temperamental actress, a star in musical comedies the success of which has been based on the risque nature of their plot. Her new show is closed through the instrumentality of a stage reformer, a part played by Mr. Tearle. The actress pretends to lose her memory and wanders into the home of the reformer, who also is a student of psychology, planning to deceive him into believing that she is a subject for psychological study and then to ridicule him publicly.

All Over Indiana

Bluffton—Andy Reed's dream of fried eggs was shattered. He bought twenty-five of what he thought were pullets and some egg-laying tonic to urge them on. The "pullets" awakened him with their crowing.

Richmond—A benefit dance here raised $273.75 to purchase markers for the graves of "Bud" Hennigar and William Kenney, police officer and fireman, who died last month in the performance of their duty.

Attica—A big seven pound bass in the old shale pit of the John Meeker farm who bore scars of successful battles with many ambitious fishermen is in the frying-pan at last. He was caught when the pit was drained.

Children make constipation a habit— relieve them with Kellogg's Bran

Children punish themselves terribly by ignoring nature's demands. They bring constipation upon themselves. They invite the many other diseases which can be traced to constipation. Immediate steps should be taken to rid them and keep them free from this disease.

It takes ALL bran to be 100 per cent effective. That's what Kellogg's is—ALL bran. That is why doctors everywhere recommend Kellogg's. That is why Kellogg's Bran carries a money-back guarantee to bring permanent relief, if eaten regularly, in the most chronic cases of constipation. That is why Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, has brought glorious, glowing health to thousands—because it is ALL bran.

No matter how long one has suffered with constipation, Kellogg's Bran will bring permanent relief IF EATEN EVERY DAY—at least two tablespoonfuls—in chronic cases, with every meal.

Kellogg's Bran is delicious. It has a crisp, nut-like flavor that simply delights the taste. It is a wonderful surprise if one has been used to ordinary, unpalatable brans.

There are many ways to serve Kellogg's Bran. Eat it with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Look for the recipes on every package and try it in muffins, bread, griddle cakes, etc.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, is made in Battle Creek and is sold by grocers everywhere. It is served by the leading hotels and clubs.

PORTLAND RESIDENTS HEIRS TO BIG ESTATE

Heirs Hold Meeting to Arrange to File Claims For Million Dollar Estate in New York

MRS. FULTON DIRECT HEIR

Portland, Ind., Nov. 25—A number of Portland residents are heirs to an estate of $4,000,000,000 now in litigation in New York, several of them declared here today.

A meeting of the heirs here has been held to file claims for the estate. The litigation claims property in New York city on which giant skyscrapers, Old Trinity church and its ancient graveyard now stand.

John J. Hawkins, who settled in Jay county in 1829, was a grandson of the late Joseph Hawkins, who married Annette Jane Edwards, sister of Capt. Robert Hawkins, of the British army who left the estate, it was claimed.

John Hawkins resided on the Hawkins farm about seven and one half miles southeast of the city.

Mrs. Gertrude Fulton, of this city, claims she is a direct heir and other heirs are James Maxwell, Jennie Votaw, James Simmons, and James S. Hawkins, of Lake View Mich., formerly of this city, and many members of his family here, and the Benjamin Hawkins families.

The suit has been instituted in the probate court of New York to settle the ancient claim based in a ninety-nine year lease given by Robert Edwards in 1773 and said to have been renewed in 1877.

The original lease included seventy-seven acres and a fraction leased to John and George Cruged "for one thousand pounds and a paper of corn."

EXODUS IS ON THE DECLINE

Fewer Immigrants Leaving State for Their Native Countries

Gary, Ind., Nov. 18—Increased industrial activity in Gary has reduced the number of immigrants going back from here to the "old country", J. E. Hitchens, collecter of internal revenue for this district said today.

Hitchens keeps in touch with the movements of aliens because it is necessary for them to go to his office to settle their affairs before leaving for their native lands. They must obtain clearance papers to show that they have paid their income taxes.

The number calling at his office were incearsed during the summer months but is now falling off.

Many of those returning to their homes are from southern Europe, mostly Italy and the Slavic countries. Many come here to make money and return to make their homes in their native lands, while others go back to bring their families to America.

BANNER YEAR FOR VOCATIONAL WORK

High School Departments For Vocational Education Were Maintained in 96 High Schools

ANNUAL REPORT PUBLISHED

Expenditures for Year Totaled $373,414.83 and Funds Received Were $139,210.12

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 25—The fiscal year which ended June 30, 1924 was a banner year for vocational education in Indiana, according to the annual report today of the division of vocational education in the state department of public instruction.

High school departments for vocational education were maintained in ninety-six high schools in the state as compared with sixty-three for the previous year, according to the report.

The expenditures for the year which ended the last day of September this year totaled $373,414.83 for vocational education. During the year state funds supplied $261,851.88 for vocational education while federal funds supplied $139,210.12.

In the 122 cities in Indiana where vocations are taught in public schools 625 teachers were employed for this purpose and 20,854 pupils received vocational instructions.

The salaries of the teachers totaled $617,074.17, of which $411,400 were paid out of local funds. Local funds were reimbursed $205,673.34 of this amount from the state and federal funds.

In the previous fiscal year there were approximately the same number of pupils with about 100 fewer teachers employed. Salaries of teachers totaled $460,551.05 of which $236,575.58.

"The encouraging outlook for vocational education in Indiana is but the inevitable result of normal development of public education," the report declared. "On every hand, educators and laymen are emphasizing the importance of providing courses of instruction adapted to the needs and capacities of different individuals.

"The futility of attempting to impose indentical courses of study upon each and every child has been demonstrated conclusively. Indiana, in common with every other state in the union is consistently translating into reality the universally expressed hope that the public school will contribute its full share to the training of every youth for profitable employment and intelligent citizenship."

Gary, during the fiscal year which ended, was far in the lead in vocational education in the point of the number of pupils over any other city in the state. In that city 4,041 pupils received this class of instruction from 48 teachers, Indianapolis employed 68 teachers but had only 2,357 pupils. Fort Wayne was far behind the other larger cities in the state with only 319 pupils and 11 teachers.

In Muncie 1630 pupils were giving vocational training by thirty teachers in Evansville, 1297 by 29 teachers; in South Bend 1451 by 52, and in Terre Haute 1248 by 37.

South Bend—Lessening of the dangers of the Dunes highway called "death highway" because of the many accidents on it will result in the construction of the pavement between Laporte and South Bend in 1925 by the state highway commission. The pavement will divert much of the traffic from the Dunes road.

BIBLE THOUGHT —FOR TODAY—

Bible Thoughts memorized, will prove a priceless heritage in after years.

The Golden Rule:—As ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them. Luke 6:31.

PRAYER:—Lord, help us to make Thee the standard of our life, and then we ever will love aright and serve aright every one else.

Home Town Not Over-Indulged

It is becoming more apparent every day that Senator Watson does not intend to recommend Judge Will M. Sparks of Rushville to succeed Judge Albert B. Anderson as federal judge in Indiana, when Jugde Anderson is elevated to the United States circuit court of appeals.

If Senator Watson fails to give due recognition to Judge Sparks as an outstanding jurist in Indiana, his friends here will be greatly disappointed, because they realize that Senator Watson himself would benefit from the recommendation of such an able man, aside from any consideration of the demands which Rush county republicans feel that they have a right to make upon the senior senator from Indiana.

It is reported on good authority that Senator Watson feels he would be criticized if he advocated the appointment by the president of a man from his home town. But with thirty candidates pressing for the appointment, representing every congressional district in the state, recommending a home man would be the most expedient thing to do.

It would not be expedient, however, unless the home man were fitted for the position, but this objection can not be raised against Judge Sparks, as he is recognized as one of the ablest circuit judges in Indiana. Attorneys from all over Indiana have urged his appointment, not for any political reason, but because of his ability to fill the place creditably.

Criticism of Senator Watson for backing a man from Rushville for the appointment would not be on tenable ground because the senator can not be accused of over-indulging Rush county in political plums. One Rushville man, it has been recalled by republicans here, has received appointment through the senator's influence. They also do not forget that Rushville is the only fourth class city in the sixth district which does not have a federal building. Certainly, no favoritism has been shown.

Dry Law Enforcement

The continued reports that the wets in congress are encouraged and proposed to make a concentrated drive for modification of the Volstead law, make the liquor question a live issue.

Leaders of the Volstead law defenders are prepared for the battle of wits, but they need the support of public sentiment, which is liable to be turned away if the continued propaganda is spread about the lax enforcement of the dry laws.

People in reaching a conclusion are very likely to be influenced by the stories of liquor smuggling and alleged prevalence of drinking, especially among young people.

Few will give enough consideration to the other side of the question. Many will not recall that as a nation we have been dealing with this problem only four years, whereas the legalized liquor industry flourished for the preceding 143 years of the nation's life.

If we should grant that up to the present time, prohibition has been a failure, to do away with it now would not be a fair test of the principle.

A high standard for prohibition law enforcement has been set from the very first, due to the tendency of those opposed to prohibition to parade before the public eye every infraction of the law.

Laws always have been broken and doubtless will be. No law is enforced one hundred per cent. Murder is punishable by death in some states, yet murders are committed.

n site of its weaknesses, it is easy to demonstrate that prohibition has shown itself as a means of pronounced public betterment and of unquestioned economic value to the nation.

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican
Thursday, Nov. 25, 1909

Every road led to the woods and fields today. From early morning well up into the day hunters could be seen with dogs and guns going to the country. As usual on holidays the I. & C. brought several sportsmen out from Indianapolis and dropped them off along the line at different places.

Corn shucking is fast drawing to a close and there are few fields in Rush county today which have not been finished.

Everything was quiet in Rushville today. Banks were closed and so was almost everything else in the city. Really it was lonesome down town.

To say that the second Charity ball held at the Kramer coliseum last night was a one great, big delightful success would be putting it mildly to say the least. The event was even more of a success than was ever anticipated by the most optimistic of the enthusiasts and was enjoyed by participators and spectators alike.

HUNT'S DAILY LETTER

BY HARRY B. HUNT
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—The approaching departure of Jules Jusserand as ambassador from France has revived reminiscences of the old days when the strenuous T. R. and the doughty French diplomat set new high marks for athletic activity in the Washington official set.

Probably no other foreign diplomat ever was on such intimate terms with an American president as Jusserand was with Roosevelt.

They played tennis together on the White House courts. They spent hours on long cross-country hikes. Between times they talked natural history, literature and the comparative merits of boxing versus fencing.

Jusserand was always bobbing up around the White House, and always was welcome. He had the run of the place. Some said he had a White House latchkey.

* * *

ONE of the stories recalled of the Roosevelt-Jusserand exploits is of a cross-country hike they took on a sweltering July day. They had been hitting it up with characteristic Rooseveltian vigor, up hill and down dale, when they came to a stream winding down toward the Potomac at a point where there seemed to be a good swimming hole.

"Ah! The Old Swimming Hole!" Roosevelt exclaimed. "How about a dip?"

No sooner said than done. With the abandon of three schoolboys playing hookey, Roosevelt, Jusserand and Archibald Butt, who was the third member of the expedition, shed their hiking duds.

Roosevelt and Butt plunged in in good American fashion, but Jusserand waded in rather cautiously. He had got in about knee deep when T R. noticed that he was still wearing his gloves—nice black ones, like an undertaker's.

"What's the idea?" Roosevelt asked. "Why the gloves?"

"Jussy" shrugged his shoulders and turned up his palms in a deprecatory French gesture.

"Who knows; there might, perhaps, some ladies come by," he said.

* * *

ON another one of these hikes Henry Lodge was a participant. Lodge wasn't the ardent athlete that T. R. and Jusserand were, and the fast pace set by the president and the ambassador soon had him winded. They had reached a stretch of rough up-hill going when Lodge called a halt.

"Theodore, Theodore," he called, panting, breathless. "Slow up a bit. You must think I'm a damned kangaroo."

* * *

THE intimate palship between Roosevelt and Jusserand at this period is said to have caused a change in the British ambassador to Washington

Sir Mortimer Durand, Great Britain's envoy, never achieved any personal relationship with the president. Their contacts were always formal. He was always "Mr Ambassador" to T R. and Teddy was "Mr. President" to him.

Sir James Bryce, afterward Lord Bryce, was sent over to replace Sir Mortimer. As a writer and historian, familiar with American affairs and institutions, Bryce fitted much better into the Roosevelt scheme of things.

They found themselves on common ground in historical and literary discussions. Also, Bryce cut in on some of the president's rough cross-country hikes. But no other diplomat ever achieved the camaraderie with Roosevelt that was held by Jusserand.

His departure marks the passing of the last of the "strenuous brotherhood" which flourished at the capital in the days of the "big stick," the "Ananias Club" and the reign of Roosevelt.

BAD BREATH

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Get at the Cause and Remove It

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, act gently on the bowels and positively do the work.

People afflicted with bad breath find quick relief through Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pleasant, sugar-coated tablets are taken for bad breath by all who know them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act gently but firmly on the bowels and liver, stimulating them to natural action, clearing the blood and gently purifying the entire system. They do that which dangerous calomel does without any of the bad after effects.

All the benefits of nasty, sickening, griping cathartics are derived from Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets without griping, pain or any disagreeable effects.

Dr. F. M. Edwards discovered the formula after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with bowel and liver complaint, with the attendant bad breath.

Olive Tablets are purely a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color. Take one or two every night for a week and note the effect. 15c and 30c.

DO YOU OVERLOAD YOUR STOMACH?

Di-Jo Aids Digestion and Assists Your Stomach in Digesting Food

An overloaded stomach is dangerous. Many people have chronic indigestion and they can't eat much—in fact can't eat enough to properly nourish the system. If you have gas on the stomach, heartburn, sour stomach, or any of the other common symptoms, you'll be glad to know that Di-Jo will aid you in securing relief.

But remember this, that however strong you may be, however confident you may be of your ability to digest heavy meals, an overloaded stomach always preceeds ACUTE INDIGESTION. Chronic indigestion is bad enough but ACUTE INDIGESTION is infinitely worse and is often fatal.

If you have eaten a heavy meal, take a few Di-Jo Tablets. They will almost instantly relieve that heavy feeling, will relieve the distress which overeating causes and give your stomach the relief it is crying for.

KEEP DI-JO IN THE HOUSE AND IF YOU DINE AWAY FROM HOME, KEEP IT WITH YOU. YOUR STOMACH IS THE MOTOR OF YOUR BODY. IF YOU CHOKE IT TOO MUCH IT MUST BE AIDED. DI-JO WILL GIVE ALMOST IMMEDIATE RELIEF. GET IT TODAY OF ANY DRUGGIST.

If you are troubled with constipation take DI-VAC. It is sold by all druggists and is recommended as the proper laxative to be used in connection with Di-Jo, if any is needed. —Advertisement

STRONG TEAMS TO FACE LIONS

Shelbyville Comes Wednesday Night and Newcastle on Friday Night For Contests

CATCH AS CATCH CAN, RULE

No Seats Will be Reserved, Except Section for Visitors—Doors to Open at 6:30

The record crowd of the basketball season is predicted for the two week end games here, Wednesday and Friday nights, when the Rushville team meets Shelbyville Wednesday night, and then on Friday plays Newcastle.

There will be no advance sale of tickets for these games, and all persons will have to take their chances on getting in. The usual reserved section for the visiting teams will be kept. It is expected that 1,800 fans will be packed into the gymnasium for each game.

The doors on each occasion will swing open at 6:30 o'clock, and at 7:15 a curtain raiser will be played. The Greensburg second team will meet the Rushville seconds in the preliminary game Wednesday night, and on Friday night the second team will meet the team from Westland.

The game Wednesday night will be the first opportunity of the Rushville team to test their strength against a stiff opponent. The Lions have so far made a good record, and in the last two games played, have showed marked improvement in all departments of the game.

On the other hand, Shelbyville has played stiffer opposition, having defeated Connersville, and then lost by ten points to Franklin last Friday. The Camels are for the most part a veteran team, with Fix, Dungan and Latshaw from the famous squad of last year, and the other members were substitutes on the team last year.

The officials for the game Wednesday night will be Vandiver of Franklin and Mowe of Richmond. For the game Friday night, York and Best will be the officials.

Coach Swain is drilling the Lions for the two games this week, and local supporters are of the belief that the team can stand the pace set by the visitors.

GAME PLENTIFUL IN THIS STATE

Hunting Season in Indiana is on in Full Blast and Will Last Until February 10

SCARCITY OF RABBITS

Quail is Very Plentiful and Duck is Beginning to Show in Northern Part of State

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 25—With the hunting season now in full blast until February 10, George N. Mannfeld, director of the fish and game division of the state department of conservation, announced today that there was a plentiful supply of game in Indiana.

There is a scarcity of rabbits, however, he said. At least there are fewer now than there has been during the past two years. He attributed the shortage to the damp weather in the spring and summer, or during the breeding season.

The rabbit builds its nest on the damp ground round underneath brush or logs or grass and it is easy for the nest to get filled with water and drown the young.

Quail is very plentiful in the state. It is possibly more plentiful than it has been in recent years, Mannfeld said, especially in the hills in southern Indiana. An illustration of this fact is a report of a hunter that he found forty nests in one small field in Daviess county. It is quite abundant in the hills of Brown county.

Duck is beginning to show up in the northern part of the state, especially on the lakes and in the lake region, Mannfeld said. Hunters report, however, that they are very shy on some occasions, even refusing to be attracted by decoys.

Coots are becoming scarcer, it is reported. Not as many have been seen in the lake region of the state this season as formerly.

Many wild geese have been seen in flocks flying high toward the south. They are hard to shoot and very few hunters have reported bagging any so far this season.

Fur bearing animals are plentiful. Hunters have been successful in shooting and trapping skunks, foxes, and raccoons. Farmers have reported that foxes have been rather bothersome in stealing their chickens. Mink is more scarce than usual, however. The scarcity of this fur-bearer is attributed to the great amount of drainage of land.

FANNING WITH FARRELL

Eastern Teams Below Standard

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Nov. 25—Some complaint has been voiced in the east that the class of 1924 football was inferior to the brand played in 1923 and that while there were a large number of fine teams last year there were only a few good teams turned out this year.

From an eastern viewpoint this may be correct. It is a fact that there were a number of great teams running the eastern gridiron in 1923 and that there wasn't one outstanding team developed this year that could be held out as a worthy representative in real intersectional competition.

Princeton developed late in the season and it was a powerful team if you are willing to admit that a great team has to be great in only the two last games of the season and can lose or make a poor showing in all the early games. At Yale, Harvard and Princeton they train their teams on the theory that games before the "Big Three" games are only games to get their teams ready for those "Big Three" games.

That idea does not prevail elsewhere. In the western conference, the Pacific Coast conference, the southern conference, the Missouri Valley, Rocky Mountain, Southwest, Midwest and Northwest conferences, the championship team is the team that finishes with the best percentage in games won and lost with conference rivals.

There is no conference of any kind in the east, however, and that may be one of the reasons why football in other sections of the country is advancing so much more than it is in the east. This results in general confusion at the end of each season with the filing of a half dozen claims for the sectional championship and with no way possible to judge the claims to the satisfaction of anyone.

If the middlewest were to ask the east to pick its best team to meet the best team in the middlewest the snow would be two feet on the gridiron before the east could pick its best team.

They don't know in the east what team is the best team. Perhaps Princeton would have been picked after the Harvard game, but Dartmouth Pennsylvania, Rutgers and Yale would have howled their heads off.

Speaking of Puppies—

Well, here's a new football distinction. Freshman Gary of Minnesota claims to have the biggest pair of dogs, which is campus Latin for feet, in the entire football world. Gary wears a size 14, E width. When Gary picks his immense bow-wows up and lays them down the resultant clatter is strongly reminiscent of fire horses responding to a three-alarm blaze.

FAIRVIEW HANGS SIXTH TO STRING OF VICTORIES

Athletic Club Defeats Centerville, 58 to 27, Having Registered Win in Every Game

LOOKING FOR A STRONG TEAM

The Fairview Athletic club won their sixth straight game Saturday night when they defeated the Centerville team, 58 to 27. So far this season the Fairview team has not met a team their equal, and they are anxious to get up against a strong team.

The line-up and summary:

Fairview 58		Centerville 27
Scales	F	Davis
Reynolds	F	R. Thompson
Peters	C	Fewell
Cook	G	Mathews
Royalty	G	H. Thompson

Substitutions, Patton for Cook, Craig for Scales, Cook for Royalty. Field goals, Scales 3, Craig 13, Reynolds 7, Peters, Patton, Royalty, R. Thompson 3, Mathews 4, H. Thompson 2; Foul goals, Scales 4, Craig, Patton, R. Thompson 2, Mathews 2, H. Thompson 4. Referee Poer, Raleigh.

ALONG THE SIDELINES

Urbana, Ill—Robert "Fighin' Bob" Zuppke has been retained as football coach at the University of Illinois for a longer period at an increased salary, George Huff, athletic director, announced.

Chicago—Fred Henderson of Butte, Mont., will captain the Big Ten champions,—the University of Chicago eleven—through the next season. Henderson weighs more than 200 pounds and plays tackle.

DRESSING ON LIMITED INCOME— HERE'S HOW IT'S DONE, GIRLS

By HEDDA HOYT
(U. P. Staff Correspondent)

New York, N. Y., Nov. 25—It's the girl who is working on two cylinders and who manages to look as though she were working on all six—who is the heroine of the fashion world. The girl who has sufficient money to support a six cylinder wardrobe lets many a little Ford outfit outspeed her on Fifth Avenue.

This Fall there are so many inexpensive clothes of good material and of good lines that anyone with taste can be well dressed. Take, for instance, those snappy little short furcoats which can be made of anything from goat fur to sable. Some of these are selling so cheaply as to come within the means of any working girl. Cat fur and goat fur, dyed in deep rich browns, may not resemble the more expensive furs but they do have smartness and chic. Who knows at the first glance whether they are real mink or dyed cat? And who cares? It's the fit of the little frock beneath the coat and the shape of the perky little felt hat above it that creates an ensemble worth looking at.

A girl can spend several hundreds of dollars on a fur pacquette and from fifty to hundred dollars on her hat and some clever little person with quick wit seizes the opportunity of copying her costume and appears a week later in a cheap duplicate which she wears with an air that absolutely outclasses the owner of the original model. Sure enough, women know the difference between cat fur and sable and between a $50 bonnet and a $2.00 one, but who dresses for women nowadays? For that matter, many of the wealthy women are wearing imitation furs and jewels this year, so why worry about quality?

The well dressed woman doesn't attempt to set styles of her own if she has a limited dress allowance. She knows that she can't hope to compete with the lines set by Fashion designers. She sees something smart in a shop window or on a well dressed woman and, choosing her own coloring, follows in cheaper materials the standard set by her wealthier sister.

Many women like to feel that they are original in dress. They will purchase a fashion book and create a gown with Lanvin sleeves, Poiret waistline and Madeline skirt and add trimmings approved by some other designer. The finished dress looks like a Christmas tree. It has neither style for chic and is ruined by the combination of different patterns. The designer has a reason for everything he or she does. If her frock has long sleeves it should never be made without sleeves. If it is long as to hem, it is because such a frock requires a long hemline.

The home dressmaker should realize these facts.

Accessories are very important these days, and it is these cheap little accessories which make or mar one's ensemble. Just now well-dressed women are wearing more subdued shades of hosiery. One can tell at a glance whether one is up to the moment in hosiery shades. Pinks and flesh shades are no longer worn for street wear. Wood shades, light tans and browns and grays are good. Gunmetal accompanies the black shoe and occasionally one sees the oyster white stocking worn with a black and white shoe combination. White hosiery should be worn when the costume is a black and white affair.

Gloves likewise play a very important part this year. Tans and mauve shades are those generally chosen. White gloves are not being worn during the day time and only occasionally at night in which case they may either be glaze kid or suede. Most women are gloveless for evening occasions. A woman in a Spanish shawl with long white gloves looks ridiculous these days. Arms are always bare, it would seem.

Handkerchiefs are chosen with respect to the coloring of the frock. The all-white handkerchiefs of lace or lace trimmed may be carried for evening use, but for day wear the pastel squares of linen, chiffon or silk are the mode. Little sets of six handkerchiefs may be purchased in the shops, with each handkerchief of a different color. The factidious woman choses a handkerchief which harmonizes with her frock for each and every occasion.

While these little detail of dress do not seem important in themselves, the woman who dresses on a limited allowance must pay heed to them if she wishes to appear smart.

In speaking of fads and accessories, one can't omit the little barpin, or brooch that is worn on the left shoulder nowadays. These may be real or imitation.

VOLLAND! Greeting Cards Mottoes - Story Books

So Universally has the Volland Line of Memoirs become known for quality, beauty and distinctiveness, that the word in itself almost means thoughtfulness. People everywhere recognize the lasting bond of thoughtfulness. The Volland line expresses an outward sign of this inward grace.

We have one of the largest lines of these Xmas Greeting Cards this year that we have ever carried. All we ask is just come in and look at them—you be the judge. We also have a very complete line of Volland Children's Books and Framed and Unframed Mottoes.

They qualify as ideal gifts because they not only fit the thought of the moment and live more than a day, but because they are fine in every detail, stock, decoration, poetry and prose — to suit the most exacting taste.

PROGRESS SEEN IN T. B. EFFORTS

Prediction is Made That Next Six Years Will See Indiana's Death Rate Greatly Reduced

WORK ORGANIZED 20 YEARS

Progress Today is far Better Than it Was Expected for the Score of Years Passed

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 25—Six more years of Anti-tuberculosis work in Indiana and the nation will result in a decrease from the disease that was not dreamed of when organized work against this was begun in America a score of years ago.

According to a bulletin issued here today by the Indiana Tuberculosis Association emphasizing a recent study by Dr. Louis I. Dublin, PH. D. statistician of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, of New York. Dr. Dublin summarized results of long study of the tuberculosis problem by saying that "a tuberculosis death rate of 50 per one-hundred thousand of the population will, I believe, be found to be not far from the actual figure in 1930." This decrease is from a total death rate of 195.2 per one-hundred thousand population prevailing in America in 1900. Dr. Dublin's report showed that in New Zealand and Australia a death rate from tuberculosis of 50 has already been obtained, and that three states of the United States in 1921 had rates below 50; in fact, two were below 40. Dr. Dublin's estimate is based primarily on the gradual reduction in the death rate from the disease and which has been brought about in a larger part in Indiana and other states since organized tuberculosis work through such agencies as the National Tuberculosis Association, the Indiana Tuberculosis Association, and the County Association identified with the latter have been applying themselves to the problem of reducing the death rate.

"It (the death rate) may even be lower providing an effort is made during the next years to apply the lessons of our experience with this disease during the last twenty or thirty year," Dr. Dublin says. "It may be much lower also if some effective biological or other new method is discovered for the treatment or prevention of tuberculosis. The movement must not rest on its laurels nor be allowed to drift along easy ways. The disease is on the decline. This is an opportune time to apply even greater energy along approved lines, that there may be no diminishing but rather cumulative returns in life saving."

Senator C. O. Holmes, of Gary, President of the Indiana Tuberculosis Association said that ninety-two Indiana counties have enthusiastic anti-tuberculosis groups preparing now for the annual sale of tuberculosis Christmas seals and health bonds, which will begin throughout the state about December 1st., and continue throughout the Christmas holidays. From the proceeds of the Christmas seal sale practically all anti-tuberculosis work, in counties, states and nation is financed.

Admits Baby Not Husband's Son

Mrs. Lydia Locke Marks (left) former wife of Arthur Hudson Marks millionaire tire manufacturer, admitted on the witness stand in a New York court that the baby she said was Marks' son was one she had taken from an institution in Kansas City. The judge ordered the child returned there. The couple are seen here, with another baby, Paul Carew, they adopted in 1922. This picture was taken soon afterward.

Obituary

W. W. Canada, of 527 Huffman St. Ft Wayne, Ind, died at 8:30 a. m., Sunday Nov. 23, 1924, at the age of 70. He suffered a stroke of apoplexy June 25th and has been confined to his bed since that time. He was born near Old Losantville, Randolph County, Ind., Dec. 8, 1854. He was one of 14 children born to Jonathan and Susanna Moore Canada. He began teaching school at the early age of sixteen, attending summer school and Ridgeville Baptist College to finish his education. He will be remembered by many, through the eastern and central part of the state as one of the most successful educators of his day, having taught continuously for twenty years, during which he had the honor of being the principal of the first High School in Wayne County.

In June 1890 he entered the Railway Mail Service, moving his family to Rushville Ind., where he resided for 13 years, and while there united with the First Presbyterian church of which he was superintendent of the Sunday-school for a number of years. In 1903 he was transferred to Ft. Wayne where he has since resided. Mr. Canada was an active member of the Westminster Presbyterian Church in Ft. Wayne and a member of the Knights of Pythias Lodge of Lynn, Ind.

August 23, 1877 he was united in marriage to Sarah Jane Heaston of Winchester Ind., and to this union eight children were born.

Surviving are the widow, Sarah J. Canada and the following children: Dr. Clement L. Canada, Dr. Geo. L Canada, W. Harold Canada, Mrs. Susanna C. Fonner, Mrs. Louisa G. Gillham, all of Ft Wayne and Dr. J. Everett Canada of of Pittsburg Pa., and seven grand-children, and the following brothers and sisters: Rev. P. A. Canada of Pittsfield Mass., Silas A. HILLIGOSS TRIAL DEC. 19

Greenfield, Ind., Nov. 25—Trial of Alvin Hilligoss, taxi driver charged with the murder of Harry Roberts, a Greenfield grocer, has been set for Dec. 19. The shooting culminated a quarrel between the two men when Hilligoss took Robert's wife auto riding.

TO BE ARSON INVESTIGATOR

G. L. Pugh, Deputy State Fire Marshall, Will go to Chicago

Indianapolis, Nov. 25— G. L. Pugh, first deputy state fire marshal and head of the state arson squad, will go to Chicago soon as an arson investigator for the National Board of Fire Underwriters, it was announced today.

Pugh was assigned with the state arson division in April 1921, when Newman T. Miller, state fire marshal took office.

Miller said he had made no appointments to fill Pugh's place, but declared that it would be filled from the arson staff, and that no appointments would be made to fill any vacancy caused by promotion.

George Cramer, second deputy in charge of inspection and fire prevention will be made first deputy but will remain head of the inspection department, Miller said.

Pugh was responsible for uncovering at different times two Terre Haute black hand arson gangs. In one gang a woman was apprehended and convicted of murder. The other gang was involved in the famous Triffeletta case in which the doings of the black band were uncovered in detail.

Milestones of Service

THIS rioting, pushing, fast-stepping age of ours, with all its complexity, concentration and achievements, never could have attained its present development had it not been for petroleum and the long list of useful products which stem from this one widely distributed raw material.

Today, when almost everything we do, from the felling of trees to the keeping of accounts, is accomplished with mechanical assistance, the refining of crude oil and the compounding of the numberless products derived from this base is one, if not the most essential of all industries.

From crude petroleum come the most readily procured, best and cheapest lubricating oils and greases, and from the same source we get gasoline, the most economical, most mobile and most compact source of power yet discovered.

In the upbuilding of this great industry the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has been a pioneer; an advanced worker on the forefront of progress.

Today, skillful, highly trained men working with every facility which science, or their own ingenuity can suggest, are striving to perfect still further, the scores of useful products going to the public under the brands of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana).

Throughout the ten middle western states in which this company maintains distributing facilities, is an ever-growing organization working, building to insure every person in the territory getting standardized, superior quality petroleum products he needs, when and where he wants them.

And always the company is looking forward, building and training for the years to come.

Office boys of thirty years ago are Directors of the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) today—office boys of today are being schooled, trained and developed for places on the Board thirty years from now.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is proud of the record it has made in keeping ahead of the times, and believes that each progressive step has been marked by a milestone of service to the thirty million people of the Middle West.

TIME TO PLAN THANKSGIVING DINNER

Every housewife looks forward to the preparation of this meal with enthusiasm—and sometimes with dread if there doesn't happen to be a dependable grocery in her community.

The planning will be made easier by a visit to our store. We are prepared to supply all requirements, both in staple foods and dainties.

If you haven't done so before, come in. A careful comparison with others' qualities and prices is invited.

We have just received our first Mammoth Cheese for this season. Only a few stores are able to sell cheese in such a large quantity. No other store in Rushville has ever attempted to handle them.

Our cheese is made to order in June (when the best cheese is made). The one now on sale is exceptionally mild, rich and creamy, Genuine New York and simply melts in your mouth.

Fancy Cranberries, pound ---15c
Berkshire Mincemeat, pound 25c
Heinz Mincemeat, 1 pound can, 30c; 2 pounds -------55c

ECZEMA

You will be compelled to admit that the results of S.S.S. are really amazing!

MANY people imagine that eczema or tetter needs only some external application on the skin in order to get relief. This is because the attention of the sufferer is so violently directed to the intense burning and itching which accompanies this disease. Try as they may—permanent relief will never be theirs until the disease laden blood is thoroughly cleansed.

We know there is one thing that stops eczema and that is more red-blood-cells! S.S.S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red-blood-cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it. Skin eruptions, eczema, with all its fiery, skin digging torture, and its soul-tearing, unreachable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting giants of Nature! S.S.S. builds them by the million! It has been doing it since 1826.

S.S.S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-cleansers and body strengtheners known to us mortals! When you put these facts together,—then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. S.S.S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S.S.S. does build red-blood-cells, it routs eczema, clears the skin, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, and gives you that more up and going appearance.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Healthy Women Happy Homes

Good dispositions succumb. Irritability and snappy retort take the place of happiness and amiability. Sunshine is driven out of homes, in fact, they are often wrecked and friends are estranged because women suffer with ailments peculiar to their sex. The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will overcome such ailments and restore health and happiness. Do not resort to strong stimulants or narcotics when this great strengthening, healing remedy made from roots and herbs is always within reach.

Know what's underneath the paint before you buy

YOU wouldn't think of buying a house without first knowing how it is built and the quality of materials used. In selecting a piece of furniture you are sure to find out whether it is solid wood or veneer.

Yet many people who exercise care in most purchases buy automobiles without even lifting the hood or knowing about the hidden qualities of body and chassis construction that really determine one's satisfaction with a closed car.

* * *

We want you to know about the unseen qualities of the new Studebaker Standard Six Sedan.

Down underneath its superb body finish is a sturdy framework of carefully selected ash, glued together and fastened in place by screws —not nailed. Ash is scarce and expensive, but Studebaker uses it because it best combines proper weight and strength.

Upholstery is genuine mohair of high quality. Various grades of mohair look much alike—the big difference is in the quality.

Beneath this mohair covering are many nests of cushion springs, padded with heavy burlap, upholstery cotton and curled hair. Almost any car seems comfortable on the showroom floor, but it's quality such as this that makes the Studebaker Standard Six remain comfortable after years of service.

The same standards of excellence are maintained throughout the body and chassis. In the engine, for example, the crankshaft is completely machined on all surfaces, a practice that results in the smooth, quiet, vibrationless performance that characterizes all Studebaker cars.

* * *

Judged solely on what your eye can see—in beauty of line and finish and exterior refinements—the Studebaker Standard Six Sedan will command your instant approval.

But go deeper than that. Compare its hidden, vital qualities—its design, materials and workmanship—with cars selling for hundreds of dollars more.

Studebaker never compromises—never uses a substitute for genuine quality. Studebaker has been building quality vehicles for 72 years.

Come in and let us tell you the "inside story" of the Studebaker Standard Six Sedan.
